President Hoover's Son Suffering From Tuberculosis

INFECTION IS SAID TO BE LIGHT

White House Physician Is Confident He Can Cure Herbert Jr., With Rest

WILL STAY AT CAMP

Wife of Young Hoover Arrives In Capital From Her Home In Pasadena

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—A thorough examination of Herbert Hoover Jr., by Dr. Joel T. Boone, White House physician, this week-end revealed the president's son has a limited tubercular infection which Boone believes can be healed by rest and diet, it was announced at the White House today.

Boone said that young Hoover would have to give up all business connections and take a complete rest for many months. He is a consulting radio specialist for the Western Air Express.

Dr. Boone plans to keep the young man at his father's Rapidan camp until cool weather and then bring him to Washington for another examination. Where he will be sent after that is undetermined.

Boone and other White house attaches were at pains to emphasize that although young Hoover's tubercular infection was clearly established, it had been discovered early enough to offer hopes of a complete cure. Boone said he personally was very optimistic over the prospect of eliminating the disease.

The White House physician said that the week's rest young Hoover has had at Rapidan improved his condition and that he found him looking much better yesterday than he did when he came to Washington.

Young Hoover's wife arrived here today from Pasadena, Calif., their home, to be with her husband. Their three children were left in California. The president's son, who is 27 years old, has been here for some time.

After discussing young Hoover's condition informally, Boone issued the following formal statement:

"As a result of a complete overhaul of Herbert Hoover Jr., the elder son of the president, upon his arrival here in Washington from California, suspicious evidence was elicited of a very early tubercular infection of a small area in the chest.

"Subsequent clinical and laboratory investigations have confirmed early suspicions so that it can be definitely stated that the diagnosis is established.

R. L. HAMMOND DIES
FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Ross L. Hammond, 69, pioneer journalist, banker and business man of Fremont, died of heart disease yesterday. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon. His body will be taken to Riverside, Calif., for burial. He went to the California city in 1920 when his health forced him to retire. There he took a prominent part in civic affairs and held among other positions, the secretaryship of the chamber of commerce.

POLITICAL POT GETS WARMER OVER COUNTRY

Next Six Weeks to See Hot Campaigns By Two Big Major Parties

By GEORGE R. HOLMES (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The big guns start booming along the national political front this week.

With primaries ended, candidates nominated, the party managers now step into control of things, and for the next six weeks the air will be filled with fur and feathers in the biennial battle for control of the next congress.

That the Democrats are due for some sharp gains in the house is conceded on all sides. The Democrats gleefully proclaim it; the Republicans rather grudgingly admit it. It would be miraculous if the Democrats did not gain materially, for the Republicans are now enjoying the greatest majority they have ever had in the house, and invariably the pendulum swings back between presidential elections.

"The Republican majority will be reduced, but it will be insufficient," predicts Rep. John J. Tilson, Republican leader of the house.

"The Republican majority will be reduced to the point of invisibility," retort the Democratic spokesmen.

To the anticipated normal off-year swing against the party in power is added this year the effects of sagging business conditions, with widespread unemployment, the lowest grain and commodity prices in many years with accompanying resentment in the agricultural regions, and bitter prohibition struggles in scores of districts. These latter fights cut into both parties, although the Republicans generally are to be found on the dry side.

Already the Republicans have sounded the tocsin of "Stand by the president." Every Republican keynoter to date has signified the Republican determination to go to the country on the record of the administration, and demand a vote of confidence thereon. The same sentiment will be expressed this week by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson when he "keynotes" the Republican convention in New York city.

The Democrats have accepted with alacrity the opportunity to go to the country "on the record." Ample financed for the first time in many years, militant, and aggressively confident, they plan during the next six weeks to proclaim from every stump that the "Hoover prosperity" promised two years ago has proved a bitter myth; that the farmers are now worse off than they were before the passage of the Hoover farm relief law; that there is unemployment and bread lines in the cities; that the Republican tariff bill is responsible for falling exports and bitterness against the United States abroad, and that, in short, "Republican prosperity" has become, in fact, "Republican hard times."

Bourbon Plans
While the Democratic plan of attack takes in, of course, the whole country, the real spear-head of the attack will be centered in some 101 congressional districts where in recent elections the margin of victory has been expressed

Despondent Man's Death Hastened by Explosion Of Gas

VENICE, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Harry Klein died by his own hand last night but not in the way he intended.

Neighbors attracted by an explosion in Klein's cottage found him lying in the doorway fatally injured.

Investigation showed the doors and windows had been sealed and all gas jets turned on. Police said Klein apparently had planned suicide by asphyxiation and carelessly lighted a cigarette in the gas-filled room.

Calvin Coolidge Says

By CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Sept. 22.—It is no new thing to have temporary periods of economic adjustment to a new basis of production costs.

While they are in progress business activity declines. When they have been completed, we have always started out from new foundations toward an era of greater prosperity.

In the past twenty-five years our population increased about fifty per cent and the wealth, income and productive capacity of the country increased about four-fold. The deposits in commercial and savings banks rose from about ten billions to about fifty-seven billions. Railroad business went from about two billions to about seven billions. Manufacturing started at about fifteen billions and reached about seventy billions. During this era we had several years of depression and the great war but the country kept moving forward.

There are projects of nationwide organization and development in transportation, communication, waterways, highways and electric lines waiting for a little more confidence and stability. They will furnish employment for a large amount of our surplus labor and capital. A country that has been able to make such progress ought to look at temporary readjustment without undue discouragement. The permanent factors of future advance appear secure.

OLD CHARGES AGAINST FITTS MADE PUBLIC

Ten Year Old Arrest Is Aired In Court In Suit Against Publisher

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Ten year old drunk driving charges against District Attorney Burton Fitts were aired during the recent gubernatorial campaign purely for political purposes, a witness admitted today in the criminal libel trial of Fred Girnau, Los Angeles publisher.

The witness, Jack Carberry, newspaper man, testified under cross-examination that an article in which a former policeman declared Fitts drove his car while under the influence of liquor, was published in support of Gov. C. C. Young's candidacy.

The story, Carberry said, was considered a heavy blow to Fitts' campaign in competition with

ENDURANCE FLIERS FORCED DOWN TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The first attempt of Loren V. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart to regain the world endurance air record ended in failure early today when a disabled motor in the refueling ship prevented the second contact of the flight.

The two aviators and R. V. Howard, radio operator, took off from Grand Central airport at 3:15 p. m. yesterday and made their first contact two hours later. A third was attempted near midnight but the refueling ship encountered motor trouble and was forced to land. Mendell and Reinhart landed at 12:55 a. m. because of gasoline shortage. They said they would take off again later in the day.

NEWPORT HIGH SCHOOL OPENS DOORS TODAY

One Hundred and Seventy-five Pupils Enroll As Classes Started

ORANGE COUNTY'S newest high school started functioning this morning, when 175 students enrolled in the Newport harbor area high school at Newport Heights.

Possibility that the number would reach 200 by the end of the week was expressed by school officials. Regular class work under the 10 teachers is scheduled to get under way tomorrow, it was announced by Superintendent S. H. Davidson. The students represent the junior, sophomore and freshmen classes as the senior students of the district are concluding their high school work in the Santa Ana high school. The Newport district furnishes a bus to transport them to Santa Ana.

Eight class rooms, the library and the offices of the school are completed. The gymnasium and shop buildings are scheduled to be completed about the middle of October, with the auditorium finished at a later date.

Construction work on the project was started in June. Four buses are being used in carrying the pupils to and from their studies.

The teachers and their subjects are as follows: Miss Frances West, girls' physical education; Miss Marie Hiesch, music; Miss Lulu Perry, English; Miss Mildred Terpsira, home economics; Miss Evelyn Davis, languages; Everett Rea, vice principal and mathematics and chemistry; Goss Grable, history and science; Logan Hart, commercial subjects; Arthur Worden, mechanical drawing and shop; Ralph Reed, coach.

Superintendent Davidson formerly was connected with the Huntington Beach high school.

GIRL FLIER CARRIED DICTAPHONE, BELIEF

IRVING, Kas., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Possibility that a dictaphone recorded the last minutes of the fatal flight of Ruth Alexander, nationally known woman flier killed Thursday at the start of an attempted cross country flight from San Diego, Calif., was revealed by her parents here today. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Blaney, of Irving, said they had received a letter written by the young flier shortly before she was to start the trip, in which she said she was going to record her impressions of the flight by talking into the dictaphone as she flew.

Stanton Man May Die After Being Shot Three Times

Harvey Counts, of Stanton, is in a dying condition at the county hospital and L. M. Ridenour, also of Stanton, is held in the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Counts, according to Deputy Sheriff Howard, was shot three times by Ridenour as the result of an argument. The men had been friends for some time, it was said.

The shooting occurred about 2 o'clock at the Century service station at Stanton.

Injured In Scuffle At S. A. Resort

Attempts to Take Pistol From Husband in Trabuco Canyon Cabin

MRS. CAROLINE BUTLER, 38, prominent Long Beach society matron, wife of Colonel C. B. Butler, 135 Hermosa avenue, that city, today was in a Long Beach hospital recovering from two gunshot wounds, said to have been inflicted accidentally last night in the Butler cabin in Trabuco canyon when Mrs. Butler attempted to take a pistol from her husband's pocket.

Following the accidental shooting last night, Mrs. Butler was brought to Santa Ana by Charles William Herring and a Long Beach man. Herring runs a small store near a group of canyon cabins owned by Long Beach and Santa Ana residents. Stopping at the sheriff's office, they asked for a motor officer escort to Long Beach, to which city it was proposed to take the injured woman. Herring and his companion, however, were ordered to take Mrs. Butler to the county hospital, to which institution they were accompanied by State traffic officers Dan Adams and Ole Buer. New York Flier Killed as Plane Falls 800 Feet

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—One man was killed and a woman seriously injured in two airplane crashes in the metropolitan area yesterday.

At Caldwell, N. J., James H. G. Mills Jr., 37, a licensed pilot, was killed at the Curtiss Essex airport there when a Moth biplane crashed from a height of 800 feet.

At Valley Stream, L. I., Mrs. Margaret Gilmartin, 40, a trained nurse and student flier, made a forced landing in a field and suffered head injuries when the plane nosed over.

Cannon Knew Of New Charges In U. S., Pastor Says

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Bishop James M. Cannon Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, knew that churchmen in the United States planned new charges against him when he left Brazil a week ago, Dr. H. C. Tucker, pastor of the Methodist church in Brazil, said today.

Bishop Cannon did not reveal his destination, Dr. Tucker said, wishing to avoid interviews. He first planned to go to Buenos Aires, cross the Andes, and return to the United States by the west coast of South America, Dr. Tucker said.

RECOVERY SEEN

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Maintaining a faint smile, Francis McGann, 23, student nurse, remained in a casket-like artificial respirator for the 10th consecutive day today, confident she would recover from an attack of infantile paralysis which rendered her unable to breathe. The young woman was placed in the glass enclosure respirator when her chest muscles failed to function. Physicians were optimistic today over her chances for recovery.

CLAD ONLY AS LADY GODIVA THIS FAIR AUTOIST JUST COULDN'T STOP FOR COPS

SAN MATEO, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Unlike the chivalrous citizens of Coventry, the police fought down their blushes and looked.

Besides, there seemed little chance that Mrs. Maggie Downing's lack of clothing would result in tax reduction.

It came about when Mrs. Downing, at the helm of her automobile, crashed into a parked car in South San Francisco. She kept going. Police gave chase.

Overtaking her some miles further, they realized the cause of her haste. She was clad in a pair of shoes, a hat and a coat.

Her other clothing, she explained, had been abandoned after she, her husband and friends had fallen into the water at Salada Beach. They had re-donned their sodden garments, not she.

At last accounts, the matron at Redwood city jail was bending a sympathetic ear to an account of how a lady couldn't very well stop for an accident if she wasn't dressed for it.

PLAY IN REGISTER'S GOLF TOURNAMENT OVER WEEK END BRINGS OUT MORE PLAYERS

SEVERAL MORE PLAYERS entered the big Register Miniature Golf championship tournament over the weekend and with the opening of the Hewes Park Putting Greens it is believed that the entry list will be augmented considerably within the next few days.

Unusual interest is being manifest in the first tourney of its kind ever staged in Orange county.

The tournament is being staged over the following nine courses:

Mission golf course, Third and Bush streets.

Palm Gardens, South Main and McFadden.

College Greens, East Fourth street.

Fourth and Ross Golf course.

Orange County Golf course, State Highway, between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

Ritz Golf course, Fifth and Bush streets.

Oaks Golf course, Irvine park.

Hewes Park course, Hewes park.

Dinky Links, Orange.

Tournament play opened Friday night with 53 players entering the qualifying round. That number was swelled over the weekend and in view of the fact that qualifying round does not close until midnight of Friday, October 3, it is believed that more than 3000 will have entered on that date.

Prizes worth more than $500 have been put up and every player who enters the tourney has an opportunity to win one of them. The tournament is equally fair for the novice as well as the more experienced player.

Anybody 16 years of age or over can enter this tournament. In order to qualify as a tournament player you must play 36 holes on each of the nine golf courses and keep your score on an official Register score card. You have until October 3rd to qualify. Play on all courses from now until that time and turn in your lowest score to the tournament manager.

The 16 lowest score players will play for the most valuable prizes. The 16 highest score players will play for the least valuable prizes. Prizes for all groups in between.

Players will be placed in flights or groups, according to the scores they have turned in to manager. Flights for men and for women. Everybody has an equal chance. The 16 highest score players will compete among themselves. The 16 lowest score players among themselves. The better tournament group you succeed in entering the better the prize you will be playing for.

You can play any course as often as you choose, in order to get the score you desire, but you are not permitted to turn in more than two stubs for any one course. Join the contest. Win these valuable prizes. Have a happy time.

DEATH ENDS LOVE AFFAIR OF COUPLE

MONTREY, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Death today had ended an alleged illicit love affair here.

Harry Markowitz, prominent Oakland salvage dealer, yesterday shot himself through the temple and wounded the wife of Dr. J. J. Benton, former Berkeley health officer, after they were said to have quarreled.

The pair registered at a hotel here Sunday as Mr. and Mrs. Benton.

According to incoherent statements made to police by Mrs. Benton, the two had had an argument which Markowitz climaxed by shooting her through the hand and killing himself.

Markowitz's wife and Dr. Benton were said to have left San Francisco immediately after hearing of the tragedy of Monterey.

PACIFIC COAST ARCH CRIMINAL BEING SOUGHT

Alleged Kidnap, Probable Murderer and Forger Believed on Sea

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Police searching for Charles E. Murphy, alias Everett Frank Lindsay, a Seattle man suspected of many crimes, expressed the belief today that he had eluded them and was bound for Australia under protection of fraudulent seaman's papers.

Murphy, wanted as a wife slayer, forger, kidnaper, bigamist and army deserter, was identified by an apartment house manager as the man who came here Sept. 8 in company with an eleven year old girl.

The girl, abducted from her home in Napa by Murphy and ascertainedly mistreated, was sent home last week when her presence in the apartment aroused suspicion.

Police combed the city for him but feared he had escaped on one of a number of boats which have left Los Angeles harbor within the last few days and radio checks were made whenever possible.

Mrs. M. Mays, manager of the apartment house where Murphy and the Napa girl lived while here, said that several persons had been suspicious of the relations between the man and little girl.

"He kept the child in a dark room," she told officers. "He drank quite a bit and once was seen to give the little girl a drink of liquor. While he remained away from the apartment in the daytime, the little girl made dresses for her doll."

Murphy sent the little girl to Napa on a bus last Tuesday night when he evidently sensed that others in the apartment were suspicious of him. He was last seen last Wednesday morning by William Crabtree, the apartment house janitor. At that time he was carrying a lunch box.

GIRL IS TRAMPLED TO DEATH BY HORSE

SAN JOSE, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Miss Marion Dunham, 28, of New York City, died here last night, trampled by a horse she intended to buy. According to her brother, Gene Dunham, of San Jose, the girl had mounted the horse after inspecting it when a sudden move of the animal threw her to the ground and under the prancing hoofs. She died shortly after being extricated. The accident was unavoidable, the brother said.

Distinct Picking Up of Retail Trade Over Nation Recorded In Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—American business has "ceased the marked decline characteristic of a number of earlier months and there are some distinctly encouraging features" for the immediate future, Secretary of Commerce Lamont said today.

"The most encouraging aspects are the growth of export trade as revealed by August statistics and the distinct picking up of retail trade in this country," he said.

Lamont said "the various weekly and monthly indicators are more or less mixed in their trends," but it was "perfectly clear" business on the whole had reached the bottom of the depression.

As indication that industry has ceased its decline, he pointed out the increase of exports in August was 12 1/2 per cent higher than in July, while the usual increase from 1922 to 1929 was only 5 1/2 per cent.

This increase was not confined to one or two commodities," Lamont said, "but was shared by most of the major groups."

Cotton exports last month showed an increase of about $13,000,000, and those of wheat about $6,500,000, according to commerce department trade statistics.

"Among the important individual products showing quantity increases in exports," Lamont said, "were gasoline, motor trucks, passenger cars, electrical apparatus, tobacco, flour, crude petroleum, bacon and automobile tires."

SEARCH FOR JUDGE UNDER WAY IN MAINE

AUGUSTA, Maine, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The search for Joseph F. Crater, missing justice of the New York state supreme court, shifted to his summer cottage at Belgrade Lakes today.

County Attorney Frank E. Southard told the United Press he had assigned Deputy Chief Joseph Young Jr., of the state police to question Mrs. Crater and the servants today, at the request of New York authorities.

It was revealed that Young already had examined the records of the telephone and telegraph companies there in connection with the case, his findings were not made public.

FRENCH AVIATORS OFF FOR COLORADO

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Beltonne arrived here at noon from the Twin Cities today. They were greeted by a crowd of several thousand, including Gov. Arthur Weaver and Mayor Richard L. Metcalf.

They had luncheon at the field as guests of the city, and left for Denver at 1 o'clock.

Man Questioned In Murder Of Liquor Agent At Brewery

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(UP)—One man was under arrest today in connection with the killing of John F. Felle, one of the party of prohibition agents who were trapped by gangsters when they raided the Rising Sun Brewery in Elizabethtown, N. J., last Friday.

S. A. Woman Killed In Arrowhead Crash

CAR OVERTURNS AS RESULT OF TIRE BLOWOUT

Mrs. Grace Philbrick, 47, Santa Ana woman, employee of Lake Arrowhead resort, was killed yesterday afternoon, when the car in which she was riding, ran off the steep high gear road at Arrowhead from San Bernardino, and overturned.

The accident occurred near the ranger station at the summit of Burnt Hill canyon, according to word received here this morning. She was rushed to the Ramona hospital at San Bernardino, but died within 30 minutes after medical aid was given.

Mrs. Philbrick was riding in a car reported to have been driven by John Hurd, of Arrowhead, Miss Betty Burns, 29, of 1818 Whitley avenue, Hollywood, also was a passenger in the machine. Both Miss Burns and Hurd received serious cuts and bruises, but their injuries were not reported as of a serious nature.

An inquest was held over the body of Mrs. Philbrick this morning and a verdict of death in an accidental manner was returned. It developed at the inquest that the cause of the accident was the sudden blowing out of a tire as the car rounded one of the sharp turns on the mountain road. The accident caused the machine to career against the bank and then overturn in a small canyon on the other side of the road, it was reported.

PICKARD RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Harry Pickard, prominent member of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, had returned to Santa Ana today, with Mrs. Pickard, ending a 14 weeks trip through the West and Middle West.

While at Omaha, Neb., where Mr. and Mrs. Pickard spent a month, Pickard met many of his former buddies of Company C, 341st machine gun battalion, with whom he served in France during the World War. Omaha is the Pickard's former home.

They spent a month at Seattle on the trip, which included a stop at Yellowstone National park, a visit at Chicago for a week, stops in Lincoln, Neb., Denver, Colo., and Phoenix, Ariz.

ARRANGE FUNERAL OF WILLIAM BISANT

Funeral services for William M. Bisant, 38, who passed away at Balboa Friday, will be held from the Smith and Tutthill parlors in Santa Ana Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Bisant was the father of Mrs. G. A. Magnusen.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO LEARN CLOGGING, GYM FLOOR WORK

(Announcing study groups being organized by the adult department of the Santa Ana high school and some of the reading material that is available at the city library.)

The class in clogging, to be conducted by the adult education department of the Santa Ana schools, will meet at 7 p. m., October 2, under Miss Zena Luck, in the high school gymnasium, it was announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director of the adult education work.

Miss Alverda West will give the gymnasium floor work instruction, beginning at 7 p. m., September 30, in the high school gymnasium. Games, sports, gymnastics and folk dancing will be among the interesting things participated in.

All of the evening classes are free and will open either on September 30 or October 2. "The success and growth of these opportunities in adult education depend entirely upon attendance," Mrs. Weston explained today. "Each class record is kept in hours and these are reduced to days. The average daily attendance determines the amount of school funds available for next year's work."

THOUSANDS AT GOLF LINKS ON OPENING DAYS

From the time Mrs. Tony Rego, golf course hostess, and Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, teed off Saturday at 2:30 p. m. for the first round of golf played on the new Anapuma miniature course at Hewes park, until 4 p. m. the following day, golf enthusiasts numbering almost 8000 thronged the grounds. While members of a Chinese orchestra from Los Angeles strummed away on their weird instruments from a platform situated near the center pool, guests from Orange county, Long Beach and the Angel City initiated the rolling greens.

Players found each hole embodying a special Chinese feature, with quaint pagodas competing in interest with fiery-eyed dragons. Attendees, some of whom were almost-eyed celestials, conformed to the Oriental costume and supplied the atmosphere which provided so popular with participants and onlookers as well. A miniature waterfall near the 18th hole was an elaboration of two smaller pools which were set amongst the grove of trees.

The Jumbo Chinese pool table near the entrance gate drew a number of those present, and found favor with the juvenile players.

Miss Inez Eason, of Long Beach, held high score for women players on the opening day, with a score of 58. Kellar Watson and Allen Bartley, of Orange, tied for men's honors with scores of 55. Watson's score for yesterday was 53. These three will receive putters as prize awards and Mrs. C. C. Campbell, with a score of 130, and J. E. Batterman, of Orange, with a score of 110, will be consoled with practice tickets for the Anapuma course.

Yesterday's number of players and spectators brought the total since the opening day to 16,000, with a number of individual parties from Long Beach and Los Angeles swelling the totals, according to Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, with whom reservations were made. The first private entertainment served as a preview to the opening, and was an event of Wednesday evening, when D. Eymann Huff was host to a party of 25 in honor of his birthday anniversary.

AUXILIARY SELLS TICKETS TO FAIR

Calumppit auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans, as in years past, is offering the exclusive sale of family tickets to the Orange county fair, and officers of the organization today urged that this opportunity be taken advantage of. Only through the auxiliary are tickets available at the family rate. Tables presided over by members of the auxiliary are located at the J. C. Penney store, Rankin's, Bank of Italy, Alpha Beta on West Fourth street and in the Grand Central market. Family tickets are to be available on this basis until September 29.

Diet Basis For Divorce Action

A contested divorce case which was under way in the court of Judge H. G. Ames in department one of superior court today, drew a good number of spectators. Bessie E. Heiny is plaintiff in the action which is directed against H. E. Heiny.

According to testimony of Mrs. Heiny today, her husband some five years ago adopted a diet for the whole family which forbade the use of eggs, white bread, sugar, meat or potatoes. He insisted on the observance of the diet to such an extent that he struck and abused her if she used any of the foods that were banned and on occasion struck one of the children who ate an egg, she said.

Mrs. Heiny asks custody of the six children and a court order requiring the defendant to pay $125 per month for their support.

Butler was not accompanied by her husband though having been wounded and needing medical attention, the sheriff's office ordered an investigation of the circumstances attending the shooting. In response to questioning by Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter and Fred Humiston, Mrs. Butler said that the whole affair was purely accidental and was not the result of any quarrel or dispute.

She told the officers that her husband had been drinking some beer and carried a gun in his pocket. Fearing that he might harm himself with the loaded gun, she attempted to grab the pistol from her husband's pocket and in the ensuing scuffle the weapon was discharged, the bullet penetrating her right hand and right side.

Herring, the storekeeper, on being questioned by the officers, said that Mrs. Butler had come to his place and remained there for about ten minutes, during which time she drank a bottle of soda offered her by Herring. He further stated that Mrs. Herring asked him to accompany her to the Butler cabin which he did.

Version Is Same After having questioned Mrs. Butler and Herring, Deputy Sheriff Floyd W. Howard and Harry Carter motored up to the Butler cabin in the canyon, where they found the husband. According to Howard, the husband's version of the affair was almost the same as that told by the victim, and after satisfying themselves that the incident had been caused by an unfortunate accident, the investigation was ordered closed. Major Butler returned with the officers to Santa Ana and then took charge of his wife's transfer from Orange county hospital to a Long Beach institution.

Last Rites For Charles L. Ross Conducted Today

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Funeral services for Charles Leslie Ross, 53, of 334 South Madrona street, Brea, who died late Friday, were held today at 2 p. m., from the McAulay and Suters funeral chapel in Fullerton. Mr. Ross, who succumbed to an extended illness, had been a resident of Brea for the past five years. The Rev. J. Broad, of Norco, officiated at the services. Interment was in Loma Vista cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Mrs. Anna Ross, Ross is survived by four sons, Roy Ross, of Long Beach, and Harold, Eugene and Charles Ross, of Brea; four brothers and two sisters; Edward Ross, of Placencia; Roy and Emmett Ross, of Spokane, Wash.; Lewis Ross, of Woodville, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. William Mosbacher, of Meadville, Penn.

HOSTESS TONIGHT

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Mrs. W. E. Cole, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist church, will be hostess to the members of the Queen Esther circle, an organization of young girls, at the parsonage on South Orange street tonight.

About 20 girls and their advisor, Mrs. Charles Robinson, are to be present.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT
The basic reason why that which is evil will be unable to harm the good in the life beyond life is because no camouflage or masquerade is possible. There everybody is "found out" because exactly what each one is becomes apparent and no one can be deceived.

We do not completely understand ourselves here; but we shall know ourselves as God knows us. It behooves us to strive to eliminate from our natures whatever is contemptible and mean and unworthy and to endeavor to develop those qualities which will bring joy to our dearest ones when we rejoin them in Paradise.

BISANT—At Balboa, Sept. 19th, 1930, Wm. M. Bisant, aged 88 years. Mr. Bisant was the father of Mrs. G. A. Magnusson of Balboa. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. from Smith and Tuttle's chapel. Interment Fairhaven Cemetery.

FIVE MISHAPS ARE REPORTED TO OFFICIALS

Nine people were injured in five traffic accidents which occurred in different parts of the county during the week end, reports filed today at the sheriff's office and police headquarters disclosed. Geronimo Cascano, box 72, Temecula; William Johnston, 18, and Clinton Cox, 18, both of Santa Ana Gardens, were injured this morning in an automobile accident which occurred at the intersection of Edinger and Bristol streets. The injured men, none of whom was seriously hurt, were taken to the Orange County hospital.

Leonard Hall, 29, Route 3, Box 109, Anaheim, received cuts and bruises Sunday afternoon when the car he was driving collided with one driven by Dr. Sydney H. Smith, 50, of Salinas. The accident occurred at the intersection of Tustin and Fairhaven boulevards.

C. R. Post, proprietor of Bolsa garage, reported to the sheriff's office that his car collided yesterday afternoon with a truck on Smelter road. The truck was registered to Jose Melendrez. The truck driver, whose name was not ascertained, was taken to a hospital in an ambulance.

Mrs. May Davis and her daughter, Minnie Davis, were slightly injured yesterday in a traffic accident at the intersection of Garden Grove road and First street, according to a report filed by Max Hightstrom, 435 Orange avenue.

The injured women were taken to their home by a son of Mrs. Davis, the report stated, which failed, however, to give their residence address.

Two persons, whose names were not reported, were injured in an accident near Garden Grove late yesterday afternoon, and according to a report filed at the sheriff's office, were taken to the office of a Garden Grove physician from whom it was not possible to learn their names.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS DISCUSS PLANS FOR CONCLAVE

Nearly 100 older boys and their leaders met at the Santa Ana Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon to consider plans for the annual older boys' conference, which will be held at Coronado on November 23 and 24. These young men came from all over Southern California, representing Hi-Y and Comrade clubs and other organizations of the Y.M.C.A.

A. M. Chesley, state secretary for boys' work, had charge of the afternoon session, with Homer Gould, boys' work secretary of Los Angeles, conducting the open forum part of the meeting.

"Boys Around the World" will be the general theme of the November conference, which will be attended by about 500 boys and leaders. It is hoped that Fletcher S. Brockman, veteran leader in Y.M.C.A. work may be secured as the principal speaker of the conference, together with a number of other notable speakers for boys and young men.

This great annual conference for older high school boys has been an outstanding feature in Y.M.C.A. work in California for more than a quarter of a century. It is eagerly anticipated each year by a large number of the most progressive young men of the high school age, and the privilege of attendance is restricted to those who show genuine capacity.

The quota for Santa Ana's attendance this year will be limited to a number considerably less than will accommodate all who wish to go, and the matter of selection will be difficult.

Yesterday's meeting was held in order to give the young men a fair chance to have the program planned to meet their wishes, and as a result of the conference, the gathering promises to be of unusually attractive quality.

Martin Returns From Trip East

Eddie Martin, crack Santa Ana pilot, returned to this city Sunday after a three weeks trip which took him to Cincinnati, several places in Kentucky, Memphis, and points in Arkansas. Martin flew the Fokker plane owned by the McMillan Petroleum corporation, and with him were several of the oil company's officials.

WELFARE BODY PLANNING FOR FUTURE WORK

On last Friday afternoon the welfare body of the Catholic Welfare Society of Orange County, Inc., met at the office of the board of directors, assembled from all sections of the county to consider the activities of the summer months, and plan for continued work through the coming winter.

The Rev. Father F. A. Wekenman, of St. Joseph's Catholic church, conducted the business session, in which it was emphasized that the chief problems facing the board at present, are those of health, unemployment, and insufficient wages. July and August reports were presented by Miss Anna Swaller, welfare worker employed by the board, and showed 40 new cases handled in those two months. Sixty-four adults and 99 children were aided, while Miss Swaller conducted 47 office interviews. In addition there were 213 home calls reported, 379 references consulted, and the sum of $356.98 expended in emergency relief work. In addition to these features, the board paid board and room for two children, and paid expenses for two patients at St. Vincent's Maternity home.

Mrs. V. A. Rossiter, of Orange, one of the chief workers in this charitable movement, today stated that the next meeting on October 17, would be of special importance, as plans were to be considered for a drive for funds to continue the work through the winter.

BIRTHDAY PARTY HELD IN ORANGE
ORANGE, Sept. 22.—J. O. Strong was the honor guest at a birthday party arranged in his honor by his wife and given at the Strong home, 140 South Clark street, Saturday night.

Decorations were carried out in red and white, red and white roses being used in the living room where the evening was spent in playing "500." Refreshments were served at the card tables after the game.

High scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richardson and low scores by Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Richardson. Both couples received attractive prizes.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jess Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Strong.

ANAHEIM MAN IS KILLED BY CYANIDE GAS

Death walked with Michael F. Burns, 56, of 414 1-2 North Olive street, Anaheim, as he worked as fumigator on the Jess Goodwin ranch at Orange and Raymond avenue near Fullerton last night. Burns inhaled a quantity of cyanide gas as he walked between rows of orange trees and fell over dead.

Firemen of the Fullerton department worked over Burns for two and one-half hours but were unable to revive the victim.

Fellow workers saw Burns stumble and fall down and hastened to his side. While the firemen were being called first aid was given.

The body was removed to the Mulkey and Stevens mortuary in Fullerton, with an inquest, under the direction of Coroner Charles D. Brown, planned for Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Burns was a widower and made his home with a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Barnes. He is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. J. B. Yuetten, of Decatur, Ill., and Mrs. R. R. Ridel, of Springfield, Ill., and a brother living in the east.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from the eastern relatives.

SCHEDULE FOR NIGHT CLASSES IS ANNOUNCED

The following schedule for English on Tuesdays and Thursdays was made public: 5 to 5:50 p. m., beginning composition; 6 to 6:50 p. m., survey of English literature; 7 to 7:50 p. m., short story and creative writing; 8 to 8:50 p. m., modern drama.

In history the following schedule was announced for Tuesday and Thursday classes: 5 to 5:50 p. m., English history; 6 to 6:50 p. m., Constitutional history. In philosophy the following classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday: 5 to 5:50 p. m., history of philosophy; 6 to 6:50 p. m., philosophy of religion. Religious education classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday as follows: 7 to 7:50 p. m., Old and New Testament literature; 8 to 8:50 p. m., life and teaching of Christ.

It was announced that, if demand arises, courses in contracts, torts, criminal law, personal property and real property will be offered at night. Arrangements also may be made to complete a commercial course during the day or night schedule and music in all branches may be arranged for in the evening.

The classes announced above are primarily evening courses and are not connected with the regular day schedule maintained at the university.

Preliminary Set For Roy E. Brown

Roy E. Brown, 26, oil worker, 2226 Adriatic avenue, Long Beach, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was arraigned this morning before Justice Kenneth E. Morrison, who set the preliminary hearing for September 30, and fixed bail at $5000. The defendant and his brother, Buster Brown, 14, were surprised last Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Robert Reed, of the Irvine ranch fruit patrol, while on the point of leaving an orange grove under circumstances suggesting theft of fruit.

Suit has been filed in superior court by Blanch M. Walker against H. M. Head, et al, asking a decree of quiet title to property in Laguna Beach.

Ray Lamar, charged with uttering a forged check in the amount of $42 on May 18, 1929, appeared before Judge H. G. Ames in superior court today and withdrew a plea of not guilty to the charge. He substituted a guilty plea and is to be sentenced on September 26. Lamar was brought to court today by officers from Los Angeles county, where he is serving a term for what is said to be a similar offense. He is held in the county jail here pending pronouncement of sentence, after which he is to be returned to Los Angeles county to complete his term there.

Court Notes

Judge G. K. Scovel today signed an order authorizing W. B. McCoy to accept $325 as a compromise of a disputed claim of his son, Wallace McCoy, against C. T. and J. L. McKee. The matter arose out of injuries sustained in an accident.

Burglar's Pistol Is Discovered In Home of Reporter

When a burglar broke into the home of A. B. Berry, Register reporter, several nights ago, Berry was of the opinion that the burglar got the best of it, although nothing of value was taken. Then Berry found the burglar's gun under his bed yesterday and began to believe that he had scored rather heavily. But then the gun was identified by police last night as one stolen from another house, so Berry is again the loser, he thinks today.

In ransacking the Berry house, the burglar laid his .32 Colt automatic down to search a suitcase. He forgot it and the gun was found after the thief had departed. Last night at the police station, Sid Smithwick, assistant chief, identified the gun as one taken from the home of J. E. Ogle, of 522 Wellington avenue, the night before the Berry burglary. Ogle today was in possession of his pistol again.

Officers Seeking Pair Who Passed Counterfeit Bill

Santa Ana police, with the assistance of federal secret service agents, today were tracing the movements of two men reported to be passing counterfeit $10 bills in the city. F. E. Hillman, 513 West Walnut street, operating a service station at Fourth and Van Ness, reported that the two suspects entered his place yesterday afternoon and after buying a can of oil for which they were charged one dollar, passed a counterfeit $10 note, receiving nine dollars in change. The men were driving a car painted green.

JAIL LIVELY AS CHINESE ARRIVE

Lively scenes were enacted at the Orange county jail late yesterday afternoon when 33 Chinese and nine Mexican federal prisoners, ordered to be deported, were removed from the county bastille and taken to San Pedro for transportation to their native lands.

Heading the list of the Chinese prisoners, all of who had been convicted of violating the federal immigration laws, was Major Wong Chan, who, it was stated, had served with the Nationalist forces in China.

The Chinese deportees will be taken to San Francisco, where they will connect with a liner for Shanghai, and the Mexicans will take a steamer from San Pedro to Mazatlan, a seaport on the Mexican west coast.

JEWIS ARE TO OBSERVE NEW YEAR PERIOD

Sunset today will mark the beginning of the Jewish New Year 5691 and ushers in a series of high holy days which will close with Yom Kippur, the day of Atonement, October 2.

The Jewish calendar dates from the creation of the world which according to tradition, took place 5681 years ago. The era is a religious one and the New Year differs from the civil new year in being purely a religious festival. It is not a time for dating documents, neither is it a time for extravagant gaiety. It is a day of solemn prayer, and the season which ends with the Day of Atonement is, in a way, a revival season among the Jews. It is the time when all Jews, orthodox and liberal alike, attend the synagogues whatever may be their attitude through the year. The intense and universal celebration of this solemn season impresses anew on every worshipper the eternal lessons of faith and duty.

Santa Ana Jewry will hold services at Lawrence hall, Fourth and Birch streets. Attorney Harry Alkow, who is also a graduate of Sheeters seminary, will conduct the English part of the services and will speak tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. on "The Significance of the New Year." Wednesday morning his topic will be "The Kiss of the Enemy." The singing and the Hebrew part will be under the leadership of Cantor Oscar Elan-

The following greetings have been received from President Herbert Hoover:

"I send my cordial greetings to those loyal and devout Jews who are about to celebrate Rosh Hashonah. The Jewish race has made numberless invaluable contributions to the progress of humanity, but none so precious as their contribution to the spiritual life of mankind. Their fellow citizens of every race and creed share in extending to them the greetings of good will and good wishes on the Jewish New Year."

OFFICERS PUT 17 PERSONS IN LOCAL BASTILE

Week-end activities on the part of sheriff's officers, constables, state traffic officers, and city police in various communities, resulted in 17 arrests, including those of two women, one charged with possession of liquor and the other with vagrancy, records at the county jail today disclosed.

Heading the "guest" list at Sheriff Jernigan's hostelry was the name of Octaviano Orosco, 48, Mexican laborer, Corona Camp, La Habra, suspected of having been engaged in the wholesale manufacture of bootleg whiskey for the past six months. He was arrested by Constable W. D. Tremaine of La Habra and booked for possession.

Eleven gallons of moonshine whiskey and some raisin mash were found in the basement of the Orosco home. No still was found on the premises, the defendant explaining to the officers that he had perfected a new method of making whiskey which did not require a still.

An alleged quarrel between an unidentified man and Mrs. Katherine Magnusson, 27, housewife, 1108 Francisco street, Berkeley, causing reports to be phoned to the sheriff's office, led to the arrest of the latter by Deputy Sheriff Harry Carter. The woman, driving a Ford coupe, was stuck in the sand near the intersection of Seventeenth street and Huntington Beach boulevard. Her traveling companion, an unidentified man, had left her. She was on her way from San Diego to Berkeley. When Deputy Sheriff Carter arrived on the scene he found Mrs. Magnusson sitting in the car. In addition to a pint of whiskey, there were several empty bottles in the car, the officer stated.

Arthur Ruiz, 22, young Mexican rancher, Route 1, Box 262, Garden Grove, was picked up last night by city officers while in the act of giving an impromptu exhibition of stunt driving in the heavy traffic on West Fourth street. He drove a car registered to Jacinto Jiminez, El Modena. After having been examined by Dr. Harry L. Huffman, the defendant was locked up in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

G. Garcia, 30, Mexican rancher, Route 1, Box 263, Garden Grove, who carried 11 quarts of home-made beer in his car, was arrested by Detective Sergeant E. E. Perry, of the city police, near Delhi. He was booked on possession and transportation charges. Alonzo Green, 26, moulder, and Alene Green, 19, his wife, claiming to live in Richmond, Ind., having motored out here, were arrested Saturday afternoon by Anaheim officers and booked at the county jail on vagrancy charges. Green gave his address as 1227 North "E" street, Richmond, Ind., while the woman told the booking officers that she lived at 117 Chestnut street in that city.

Brought in with the Green couple were Lewis Douglas, 18, of Palmdale, Pa., and Thomas Corrao, 18, of Brooklyn, N. Y., picked up at the Anaheim railroad depot, and charged with vagrancy.

Two men were arrested and jailed for breaking glass on the pavement of public streets. The first one to be brought in on this charge was Sebastian Arroyo, 22, Mexican, 2202 West Fifth street, Santa Ana. The other was John Cheatin, 52, of Yuma, Ariz., who was arrested at Third and Artesia streets.

Among those arrested on simple drunk charges were Pedro Perez, 27, Mexican, 702 Fairlawn street, Santa Ana; Ysidoro Contreras, Mexican, 211 So. Philadelphia street, Anaheim; John Quintana, 19, Mexican, 904 East Second street, arrested by Fullerton officers; James Espinosa, 43, Mexican, 311 Chestnut street, Anaheim, arrested by Fullerton officers; Harry Hayes, 38, Bismarck, Ariz., and R. Saldano, 29, Mexican, arrested by sheriff's officers.

REPORTS UPON CONDITION OF MISSION FIELD

Dr. L. T. Guild, of Los Angeles, one of the outstanding preachers of the Methodist church, who has just completed a tour of the mission stations of the church throughout the world, occupied the pulpit at the First Methodist church yesterday morning and preached on the subject "How Comes the Kingdom?" As text he used "The Kingdom of heaven is like unto a leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it all was leavened"—Matt. 13:33, and "Ye are the salt of the earth," Matt. 5:13.

"Jesus uses the familiar things of Nature to teach us spiritual truths," he asserted. "We may not always recognize the processes, but we may rest in confidence upon the fact that the supernatural is not unnatural."

"Faith is a form of life; a plant. As all other forms of life, it is to be used of man. So religion is for folks and its laws are congenial to human life. It is the world's greatest moral force."

"Just now the world is all torn up; in Christendom morality seems dissolving. In the midst of all this is there any open vision? Is there any Voice? How comes the Kingdom of Jesus?"

"More than 43 years ago I bet my life on Jesus Christ and have followed that initial wager with intensity and confidence. A year ago I received what John McGroarty calls 'a loan from God.' I had worked for six years at the biggest job of my life; my term was done. We sailed away to the lands overseas to learn how the Kingdom is coming. Also I was to preach under the International commission in England, promoting good will between the two countries."

"I have seen a vision: I have seen the actual battleline where the cross is in collision with hideous idolatry and fanatic Mohammedanism; I have touched historic shrines of faith where our Holy Religion was born and where Great Spirits nourished it into a vital force in the world."

"How comes the Kingdom? Is there any new enthusiasm, any new word of hope? Will Jesus of Nazareth master and win this world? I will give you my conclusions."

"But first, can you bear to look upon the Medusa face of Hinduism, and not be blinded by the horror, turned to stone, or so sophisticated that you cannot regard it with repulsion? 'Plain men and women have been going into that dreary world for 75 years from our church. I saw them in their work; met scores of them. Among them a fine little woman in Calcutta, from your own church, Dorris Wells. She is carrying Jesus to women and little children; the leaven is spreading in the meal by her winsome kneading; she is impregnating the soiled, infected life of that great city with the cleansing antiseptic; the salt of Christian faith and service. These missionaries are splendid people; doing noble work; they are India's hope today. Dorris is opening the door of hope to pitiful, naked, ignorant children and getting into zenanas to help poor wretched mothers. The same may be said of Dr. and Mrs. Harwood, in Rangoon."

"The salt is cleaning up. Hospitals; leprosariums, colleges, schools are scattered all over that land. Child marriage has come to an end on April 1; the widow may no longer cast herself on the funeral pyre of her husband; churches are scattered over the land and the native Christians are becoming of sufficient number that a united evangelical church is being negotiated for all Southern India."

"Japan is lighted with hope. The Japanese Methodist church has fine colleges, good schools; it is carrying on, an indigenous church. I dare to say that now, at the end of 75 years, Christianity—Protestant Christianity—in Japan has made progress as far as Christianity had gone in its first 75 years in the Roman empire."

"It is necessary for us to co-operate with God. Now we must have, we will have, native churches organized. It is done in Japan; it is doing in China; it is done this day in Mexico; it is set up for South India."

"But that does not mean that we are to let go; we must still help our comrades carry on in the bitter poverty, the appalling moral putridity of these un-Christian lands. We must back our comrades; we must keep on sending devoted men and women who will carry the personality of Jesus to the pagan world and impart His moral life to them. Jesus left this job to us, his disciples; it cannot be carried on by anyone else."

"I have seen the world with wide open eyes; its wounds and sores, its conditions are appalling. I believe world conditions are today more serious than at any time since the fall of Rome. But Jesus of Nazareth can do the job; He can cleanse these jungles; He can clean up the moral plague; heal the lepers, feed the hungry; clothe the naked. It is our task, our duty, our joy to fling this gospel as a cleansing ray; to take it as a living hope, to carry it as the one saving force into the far-off lands where the dark places of the earth are filled with habitations of cruelty."

LAW ENFORCEMENT BODY MAKES PLANS

A group of members of the Orange County Law Enforcement league held a caucus Friday night at the First Methodist church in Santa Ana. Officers of the league declined to state the purpose of the meeting, but announced that plans were being made for the fall campaign.

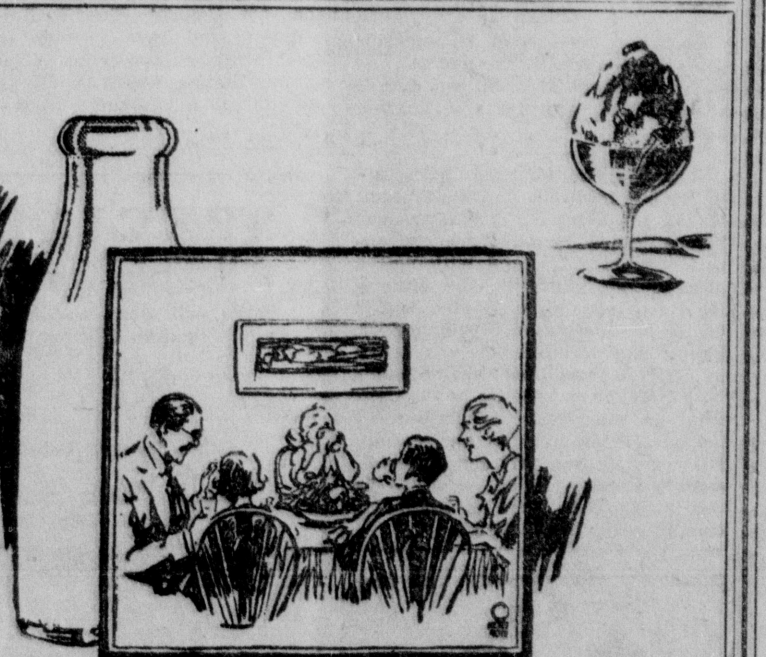

R. R. Lutes, secretary of the organization, stated today that a meeting of the executive committee and several other members of the league was to be held Monday night and that a definite program for the fall campaign would be announced next week.

Church Program For Year Outlined By Leaders

S. A. MINISTER GIVES ADDRESS BEFORE GROUP

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Fifteen leaders of the First Presbyterian church met Saturday afternoon and evening to outline the church program of the year, the meeting being an annual one arranged by the congregation. Dinner was served between the two sessions and the closing address was given by the Rev. W. H. McPeak, of Santa Ana. The Rev. Robert McAulay, pastor of the church, presided.

During a discussion regarding attendance at the evening church service, a goal of 250 was set, the average evening attendance being 199. At the morning service the church is filled, it was brought out.

Means whereby the desired increase might be made were suggested and included in the suggestions were plans for a more general use of the young people in the evening services and in the choir and the forming of a men's chorus.

Plans for the coming school of stewardship which is to open September 28 were made and appointments as leaders were Mrs. B. M. Culter, W. H. Lowry, J. B. Wilber and George Stoner. Mrs. R. B. McAulay will be in general charge of the school which will run for five Sundays and which will be held in the church from 6 to 7 p. m.

A school of missions is to follow the school of stewardship in November and December.

Major general events as outlined will include an organ recital in October, a social evening November 14 and a father and son banquet on November 7.

In December the Christmas exercises will take the place of other events for the family and in January the members of the Missionary society, who arrange the friendship teas will be in charge of a social evening for the families of the church.

February has been set as the month in which the reception will be held for the missionaries supported by the church in Siam and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hanna and their children will be greeted and will give talks on their work in that far country.

In March a dinner for men and a dinner for women will be featured, the two dinners taking place on the same evening in different rooms of the church.

In April the annual church dinner will be held and in May a mother and daughter banquet will be held. June will bring the annual church picnic and will close a year of intensive work.

During January social visitation will be observed and church members will be expected to call on each other in their homes.

Among things recommended were more personal contacts to be made by leaders with boys and girls of the church, J. B. Wilber, who has charge of the work with the boys, making the recommendation. Mrs. Wilber has charge of the girls' work.

The superintendent of the Sunday school, R. M. Warren, suggested that physical recreation be made a more important part of the young people's work to supplement the regular Sunday school work.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the church last year was the purchase of the $10,000 pipe organ recently dedicated.

'BROTHERHOOD' ORANGE CHURCH TOPIC SUNDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—"Future of Our Brotherhood," one of a series of sermons, was the subject of the sermon given at the Christian church Sunday morning by the Rev. Franklin F. Minck. Mrs. Leon Des Larzes and Floyd Owing sang a duet and the choir sang the anthem, "The Lord Is Gracious," by Adams, at the Sunday morning service.

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "Multitudes of believers spoke the word with boldness, in the time of Christ. It takes boldness today to proclaim the truth of the gospel, a peculiar type of bravery to stand for the truth today. Religion is a reasonable relationship with God. The Bible is the text of the Christian. Christ is the creed of the living God. The church has a democracy of membership. The unity of spirit and the unity of mind are essential to Christians. All Christians are a part of the body of Christ."

"The Day Is Ended," by Bartlett, was sung by Mrs. Les Larzes, with a violin obligato by Mrs. Loring White at the evening service. The anthem, "My Salvation and My Glory," was rendered by the choir. The sermon by the pastor was "Does It Pay?" He took for his text Math. 19:27 "Peter said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?" The thought does it pay in wealth and health in the material world to become a Christian was well brought out in the course of the sermon.

The pastor said in part: "Should one be a Christian that wealth and health should come to him? Look about you. Are all Christians supplied with wealth and are they all in good health? The worldly value of being a Christian cannot be said to be profitable. Many missionaries are living on borrowed money that they expect to pay back when their 20 or 25 years of service is over and they enter the business world. The life of Christ shows a sense in which it pays to be a Christian. The Christian is rewarded for being faithful with an increased capacity for service, increased opportunity is opened up before him. Our inward thoughts are reflected on our face, if it shows on the physical face, how does it reflect on the soul?"

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Laura Hom, daughter of Mrs. Minnie Grahn, of 133 North Citrus street, was burned with an explosion of gasoline Saturday while cleaning a garment. The gasoline exploded from a lighted gas jet in an adjoining room. Mrs. Hom is with her mother.

A week end party to Mint canyon were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Jess McDaniel and son, Ronald, of Huntington Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swoap and two children, of Bell, Mrs. Mary Parvance, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. G. A. Gates. Three of Mrs. Gates' daughters were of the party and they visited a fourth daughter, Mrs. Robert Mathis, in Mint canyon. The occasion of the gathering was the celebrating of the birthday of Mr. Mathis.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cavett, 253 North Pine street, expect to leave Friday for Kansas City, Mo. The Cavetts were former residents of Missouri and have not been back to visit friends and relatives in that state for the past 10 years.

George Bartley, Orange constable, returned this morning from a vacation which he spent deer hunting. In his absence, A. R. Todhunter acted in his place.

'MY NEIGHBOR' DISCUSSED BY DR. W. M. TIPPLE

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Dr. W. M. Tipple spoke from the topic, "Who Is My Neighbor?" at the Villa Park church Community church yesterday.

The text was taken from Luke 10:29, "And who is my neighbor?" and the pastor said in part:

"The principle of the story of the good Samaritan is just as true today as it was when Jesus said to the lawyer, 'Go thou and do likewise.' Still we ask in honest perplexity, 'Who is my neighbor?' We can no longer say, 'My neighbor is next door or a few miles away. Nor is the only neighbor that needs help, the one we chance to meet on the street and who has been attacked by robbers. Our individual neighbor has outgrown this definition and he may be the man who lives a thousand miles away and whom we shall never see. The problem of neighborliness between communities has grown with the rise of modern inventions."

"Nations now face new international problems because they are closer together, when we consider the element of time. Today being a neighbor means doing our daily work well, for there is so much dependence upon it. This same problem extends itself to communities. For example a fire, flood or earthquake; two thousand years ago countries would not have heard of such a disaster until too late to offer aid. Also transportation facilities were inadequate to provide proper relief. Then there was no problem."

"In contrast today, the entire nation knows of a disaster in a few minutes after it happens. No one community is called upon to bear the entire burden of assisting the stricken people, but the whole nation takes part. Neighborliness in this respect is far more complicated than it was when Jesus answered the lawyer. When the call comes now for assistance every community must help to bear the burden. No one can have the glory and honor of doing the things alone. Nor does anyone have to carry the burden alone."

"Then the problem of relationship between nations. This is an extremely important question. Upon this rests the fate of the civilized world. A proper solution means happiness for the whole world. A wrong solution means misery, death and destruction of civilization. It is up to us to solve this problem."

"The people of the world have become our neighbors with the wiping out of distance. The Atlantic ocean has been spanned by an airplane from New York to Paris in 36 hours. The Pacific has been conquered. From Oakland to the Fiji islands in less than 66 hours. Every day we hear of records broken as to time and distance. The whole world is becoming a unit."

"Our changing industrial civilization and the fact that the nations of the world are being brought daily into closer contact, demands new social ethics."

"The question, 'Who is my neighbor,' grows more complicated as the world progresses. New inventions, new discoveries and increasing knowledge open new fields of mutual helpfulness and understanding. There was a time when a man in Los Angeles could not think of helping to save a man's life in Pasadena. Nor could the people of Boston send assistance to the flood sufferers in the Mississippi valley. Nor could the Londoner give anything more than an expression of sympathy when he heard of a famine in China."

"Two thousand years ago these questions presented no problems because nothing could be done. Now the world has been made smaller for man by progress. Now we must be ready with sympathy, understanding and material helpfulness whether it be an individual, a com-

SERVICES FOR G. H. PETERSON HELD TUESDAY

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the First Christian church for George H. Peterson, 68, who passed away Friday evening at his home, 414 East Palmyra avenue, after a prolonged illness.

Surviving Mr. Peterson are his one son, George E. Peterson, a student at the University of Southern California, and two brothers, William, of Los Angeles, and Charles, of Bostwick, Neb.

Services will be in charge of the Gillogly Funeral home and will be conducted by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the First Christian church, and the Rev. W. L. Mellinger, of Lodi, Calif. The Rev. Mr. Mellinger was the pastor who officiated at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson.

Mr. Peterson had been a resident of this city for the past 17 years, coming here from Talmadge, Neb.

The deceased joined the Christian church, as a young man. Interment will be made in the Fairhaven cemetery.

"We must realize our horizon is infinitely wider and our opportunities are infinitely greater than those of the good Samaritan of Jesus' parable. Let us show that we are equal to the greater responsibilities, which have been placed upon us, with the new advantages we enjoy."

HOSTESS TONIGHT
ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Mrs. W. B. Cole, wife of the pastor of the First Methodist church, will be hostess to the members of the Queen Esther circle, an organization of young girls, at the parsonage on South Orange street tonight.

Jones Breaks Par In Qualifying Round

BOBBY STARTS FOR 4TH CROWN WITH A 36-33

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

MERION CRICKET CLUB, AR-MORE, Pa., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Under a clear blue sky and blazing sun, Bobby Jones teed off today for his first qualifying round on the 34th national amateur championship, a title he seeks to make his reign of the realm of golf complete.

With blue clad marines and police with cartridge belts and pistol butts prominently displayed holding in check a large early crowd along the narrow green ribbons of fairway, the Altamont set out on his quest of the quadruple crown of golf.

Out ahead of Jones, before the dew had lifted from the bright green grass of the famous east course, were some 30 of the lesser light of the field of 168 gathered for the championship. But the crowd gave them scant attention, except for a gasp of admiration when Jesse Gullford, the Auburn-dale seige gun, sent one of his mighty 275 yard shots away from the tee.

Jones and his partner, Emery Stratton of West Newton, Mass., a stranger to such golfing prominence, were surrounded by well-wishers of the Altamont and by a corps of photographers before they were allowed to start their round. The field is to play 18 holes today and another 18 tomorrow with the low 32 to qualify for match play.

Others among the early starters were finding the championship course quite as difficult as had been expected and Art Sweet, Chicago Daily News correspondent and crack amateur golfer, was the first to break 40 to the turn. Sweet had 37.

Followed by an orderly gallery of about 3000, which was kept in check by marines and armed police, Bobby played steady rather than spectacular golf, content to trail along with par figures, until opportunities for birdies presented themselves.

Gets First Birdie
Jones bagged his first birdie at the 355-yard tenth hole, where after topping his mashie niblick approach, he found his ball six feet from the pin. He sank the putt for a birdie three.

At only one hole did the Altamont yield a stroke to par. This was at the eleventh, where he sliced his drive and sent his approach over the green, where he found a hanging lie and needed a five to get down.

Another birdie came Bob's way at the short thirteenth, where he dropped a ten-foot putt after putting his tee shot on the diminutive green.

All Even Par
For the rest, it was a case of even par figures all the way, with the Altamont's putter working well and his recovery shots ready whenever he erred from the tee.

Jones' round was played through brilliant sunshine over a course that was well dried out and in well high perfect condition. His 69 was

Golfers To Begin Title Play Today

One hundred and twenty-eight golfers, members of the Santa Ana Country club, started their annual tournament for the championship of the club today. The number of players is the largest in the history of the club's competition.

Five flights will take care of all the golfers, the players in the flight known as the "Champion-ship flight" playing scratch golf, while the players in all other flights use their handicaps.

Play must be made this week, and the 64 matches scheduled must be completed by next Sunday night.

Following are the matches shown by flights: Championship flight—L. W. Bemis vs. L. H. Robinson; B. Z. McKinney vs. C. Fenelon; F. E. Parnsworth vs. Dwight Ainsworth; Ed Holmes vs. L. D. Coffey; B. V. Goedders, who is one of the most feared 170 pounders in the southland, has been installed a slight favorite over the willing youngster from the beach.

Urban Hernandez, Placentia lightweight, who has headlined a number of local shows draws a terrific puncher in the six round special when he tangles with Mike Stanovich, 135 pound champion of Arizona.

Gordon McNulty and Willard House, pair of sailor welterweights, hook up in a four round preliminary and El Sylvia and DeNave, rival Long Beach 130 pounders battle in the four round opener.

Gibson Dunlap, the youngster from Los Angeles, who led the field at the end of the first qualifying round at Pebble Beach last year with a 69 and has shot a 67 here Friday and hasn't been over par in practice, had an unexpected 78 today.

One of the low scorers up until 1 p. m. was Charles D. Hunter Jr. of Willingford, Pa., who succeeded Ward in third place with a 74.

SMASH UP IN 'BIKE RACE'

The National Amateur Bicycle Races at Kenosha, Wis., gave spectators a thrill they hadn't looked for when a group of riders piled up in a grand smash-up during one of the sprints. Four riders hit the dirt when this picture was taken—though you may have to look closely to see them all. None of the riders was seriously hurt.

LOCAL BOXERS IN WILMINGTON RING THIS WEEK

With the gleam of big money in his eyes, Wildman Macias, Los Alamitos welter, who is a favorite among local lovers of the fistie art, meets his "big chance" at Wilmington, Wednesday night.

In five years of campaigning the negro has met many of the country including such stars as Tommy Freeman, present welterweight champion, Jack Thompson, former king of the welters, and Young Corbett, conqueror of two champions during the past year in non-title fights.

If the chunky little Mexican can get over the border City battler he stands a good chance of becoming a great attraction at the largest clubs on the Pacific coast and to put Orange county on the fistie map.

Whether or not he will be able to land one of his haymakers on Wills remains to be seen but whether he does or not he will have the moral support of more than 200 local fans who will be on hand for the shindy at the harbor arena.

Goedders, popular Santa Ana light heavyweight, faces Stutta Hook, Long Beach gamster in the six-round semi-windup.

Stanford Man Is Winner Of Frisco Swim

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—Austin Clapp, Stanford university merman, taking an early lead of 200 yards, which he never lost, yesterday thrashed his way to victory in the annual Golden Gate swim here.

Clapp, a senior, swam from the Marin county shore to Fort Point, at the San Francisco presidio, in 46 minutes and 34 seconds, emerging victorious over 125 other contestants.

Struggling in three minutes and nine seconds later, "Eustace" Olds, from San Diego, Calif., finished second, and Bill Egan of the San Francisco Olympic club placed third.

TERRY, FRISCH, LINDSTROM CRONIN SELECTED ON ALL-AMERICAN BASEBALL TEAM

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Six American league and five National league players are picked on the United Press All America baseball team for 1930.

Although the major league season does not end until next Sunday, the following players have sufficiently distinguished themselves to warrant their selection:

1b—Bill Terry, New York Giants, 405.
2b—Frankie Frisch, St. Louis Cardinals, 338.

3b—Freddie Lindstrom, New York Giants, 367.
ss—Joe Cronin, Washington Senators, 350.

lf—Al Simmons, Philadelphia Athletics, 377.
cf—Hack Wilson, Chicago Cubs, 355.

rf—Chuck Klein, Philadelphia Phillies, 369.
c—Gordon Cochrane, Philadelphia Athletics, 357.

p—Robert Grove, Philadelphia Athletics, won 27, lost 5, Pct. .844.
p—Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland Indians, won 25, lost 12, Pct. .675.

p—Teddy Lyons, Chicago White Sox, won 21, lost 14, Pct. .600.

Five of the players—Terry, Frisch, Simmons, Wilson and Cochrane—are standouts at their positions, while the pitching staff of Grove, Ferrell and Lyons selects itself on the remarkable records of the three hurlers.

Terry's only rival at first base is Lou Gehrig, who leads the American league in hitting, but, nevertheless, must play second fiddle to

PLAY FIRST GAMES IN HARBOR LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
Santa Ana, 0; Cypress, 5.
Anaheim, 2; Olinda, 1.

Orange county's Harbor League swung into action yesterday, playing the first games of its winter schedule.

With eight teams highly interested in baseball, the season's prospects this year seem to be brighter than any time in the past, according to Vic Walker, Santa Ana sporting goods dealer, who is president of the league.

Good crowds were reported at all the games, and the close scores made in the opening contests indicate the teams are fairly well matched.

one of the really great first basemen of all time. Not only is Terry the only major league player batting over .400, but he is the outstanding fielder at his position in either league.

Frisch has never played a greater game at second than he has this season, and it has been his work which has been largely responsible for the Cardinals' amazing comeback.

Simmons, Cochrane and Grove are the outstanding players on the Athletics' second pennant winner. Simmons has driven in 156 runs, being second only to Gehrig in American league. Cochrane is baseball's smartest catcher, as well as a timely hitter.

Hack Wilson has hit 52 home runs and leads all major league players in runs batted in, 178, more than any other player ever batted in.

Ren Rogers Wins Weekly Shoot

Ren Rogers, who has been absent from the Santa Ana Skeet club for the past several months returned yesterday to win the 25 birds honors by breaking 24 of 25 birds.

Other scores were: W. W. Berry, 22; Herb Carter, 21; Carl Kumpke, 21; George Myers, 21; Theo Reuter, 19, and Bert Reynolds, 17.

Most of the day was spent by members in building cement walks around the traps, which when completed makes the local club one of the best in the west, according to Carter, who is secretary.

Following the safety, Chaffey kicked to Garlock on his own 30-yard line, from where he ran down the sideline 36 yards to put the Dons within scoring distance. Clarence Hapes, 220-pound fullback and Garlock then alternated to smash over a touchdown, Hapes making the last three thrusts, finally going over on a four-yard drive. Hapes tried for the extra point but his kick was blocked.

Dons Are Held
Santa Ana advanced to the one-yard line twice before the next touchdown but finally had to recover a fumble to score. The first opportunity came in the last of the third and first of the fourth quarter after Emmett Seacord intercepted a pass on his own 35-yard line and ran to the 48-yard stripe. In the next seven plays, Seacord made 31 yards and Kiyoshi Shigewaka, speedy fullback, contributed 21 but the Chaffey line stiffened on the one-foot line and both Seacord and Shigewaka ran into a stone wall.

Coach Cook inserted his starting lineup back into the fray at this juncture which held the Panthers on downs on the 18-yard line. The second march to a touchdown began again with Hapes and Garlock smashing through wide holes made by Harry Clayton, Harry Lake, Kermit McCoy, Gene Olsen and Captain Al Kluthe. Hapes ran five yards to the five-yard line, Garlock made two, then one more but Hapes was held on the two-foot line on fourth down.

Mike Santa Cruz, Orange tackle who played a fine game, broke through on the next play in time to recover a fumble and give the Dons six more points. Melvin Beatty attempted to convert but his kick was blocked.

Pass Earns Score
The last touchdown came in short order, following Kluthe's kickoff and the subsequent run back to the 33-yard line. Chaffey made nine yards on two plays but a 15-yard penalty and a short pass put them back on the 27-yard line. Santa Cruz again broke through and blocked a punt and then recovered the ball on the 20-yard line. Leonard Natland hit the line twice for a gain of two yards and then unworked an accurate pass to Elmore Lord, shifty halfback, who snagged the ball and outran two tacklers to the goal line. Beatty's kick was blocked.

The Dons threatened again immediately after the kickoff when Joe Rodriguez intercepted a pass on Chaffey's 38-yard line. A 15-yard penalty for holding snuffed out the chance but Santa Ana came right back soon after when a warm on players recovered a fumble on the Chaffey 33-yard line. Rodriguez shot a 15-yard pass to Dugan but the game ended before the teams could line up again.

Coach Cook's boys made only nine first downs as compared to eight for Chaffey but gained 229 yards from scrimmage as against 135 for the Panthers. The Dons forwards threw the Panthers for a total loss of 53 yards while the Dons lost only 12.

Hall Dunham and Lorry Walbridge, starting ends, played good ball and so did Bill Hackleroad and "Toby" Greenow, their successors. Coach Cook used every man on the squad at some time or the other and it would be too complicated to name all the good players, especially as Chaffey also used several teams, some better and some worse than the others.

S. A. ELEVENS PREPARE FOR NEXT SATURDAY
With the first game of the season safely under the belts of the Santa Ana junior college Dons, both the Padres and Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana high school Saints will swing into action on Poly field this coming week end, the preps entertaining the Orange high school gridder Friday and the Dons going to bat against the University of Southern California freshman on Saturday.

The stock of the Dons is higher on the market than it was before the Chaffey game Saturday but unless they are inspired or play far over their heads, the Trobables are likely to go home with the bacon. The Trojans are blessed with an abundance of material this year while the Dons are good but slightly inexperienced.

In 1928, the Dons visited the Coliseum and came home with the sad end of a 40 to 0 score. Last year, the Dons again visited the Coliseum with the wise guys predicting an even larger victory but the Cookmen stole the thunder from the Thundering Herd and not a point was scored by either team. This year the Dons expect the Dons is seen by the fact that they were willing to play on Poly field this season.

As for the Saints, Orange will have to play real ball to hurdle Oliver's men. With a veteran backfield led by Captain Alvin Reboin, all-coast back for two years and a fairly big line which is developing fast, the Saints will be hard to beat. Orange won the Southern California championship for ming school elevens last year but was unable to book a game with Long Beach, major champs.

Santa Ana was the only team that was able to hold the Jackrabbits last year, the game ending in a scoreless tie. With the outcome of the game with San Diego virtually deciding the Coast league championship, the Saints lost out in a dramatic finish when the Hill-toppers completed a pass for a touchdown.

Hard scrimmages are in line for both the Dons and Saints this week and the two teams will probably stage some conflicts between themselves. The Jaycee squad was due to receive a new candidate today in the form of Orval King, 185-pound tackle who played four years at Garden Grove. If he reports, Garden Grove will have a good representation, including Clarence Hapes, 220-pound first string fullback, Charles Andres, end, Leonard Natland, quarterback, and Harry Lake, first string tackle.

DONS LOSE SERVICES OF MCLEAN; LEAVES
The Santa Ana Junior College football team today lost one of its most valuable players, when it was learned that Bob McLean, letterman since 1928, had checked out of the school and returned to his home at Coronado.

No reason for his leaving school could be ascertained here this morning and the "disappearance" is held as somewhat of a mystery on the local campus. McLean was a star tackle, whose services will be missed.

Hall Dunham and Lorry Walbridge, starting ends, played good ball and so did Bill Hackleroad and "Toby" Greenow, their successors. Coach Cook used every man on the squad at some time or the other and it would be too complicated to name all the good players, especially as Chaffey also used several teams, some better and some worse than the others.

TOMMY ARMOUR WINS $10,000 ST. LOUIS OPEN

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—Tommy Armour, Orchard Lake, Mich., professional was $3500 richer today, the result of adding another triumph to his golfing conquests when he won the $10,000 St. Louis open golf tournament here yesterday.

Armour's 276 over the 72 holes of the Sunset Hill country club links gave him two strokes under Walter Hagen, his nearest rival.

A 67 Friday and a 68 Saturday gave Armour a much needed advantage over Hagen in yesterday's 36-hole play. Armour covered the first 15 holes in 69, three under par and one stroke under Hagen's total for the round. Hagen went over the second 18 in one stroke under Armour for a total of 141 for the day, and a grand total of 278 for the tournament. Hagen will receive $2000.

Horton Smith, Cragston, N. Y., professional who was picked to win the contest before the play began, ended in a tie for third place with Joe Kirkwood, Flushing, N. Y., and Al Espinosa, North Branch, Ill., with 281. Each receives $1083.33.

For the rest, it was a case of even par figures all the way, with the Altamont's putter working well and his recovery shots ready whenever he erred from the tee.

Jones' round was played through brilliant sunshine over a course that was well dried out and in well high perfect condition. His 69 was

BARTON'S BOOK ON CHRIST IS SERMON TOPIC OF THE SAVIOR

Basing his sermon on the story of Jesus as told in Bruce Barton's book, "The Man Nobody Knows," the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, preached yesterday morning on "The Man Everybody Knows." He developed the thought that each individual interprets Jesus in terms of his own interest and needs and declared that the spirit of Jesus which made Him the man of the ages, must be imbued in every man's conception of the Master. He said in part:

"Bruce Barton wrote a book which he called 'The Man Nobody Knows.' The book was a very interesting description of Jesus as Barton saw him. To Barton, Jesus was the world's first great business man. He was a great executive. He was sociable—easy in his contacts with people. He was a great advertiser. He had a daring program and he used technique in carrying it out. This is the man nobody knows, according to Barton.

"We each do what Barton has done. We interpret Jesus in terms of our interest and needs. I think of Him as preacher and pastor. He is a model for preachers and pastors for all time. A farmer finds that Jesus knew something of farming and understands farmers. Stanley Jones wrote a book which he called 'The Christ of the Indian Road.' He shows how the people of India are coming to think of Jesus as one of them. That He is an oriental and only an oriental can really understand and interpret Him. When I was in Mexico I heard Mexican speakers say that they wanted a Christ of the Mexican road. They wanted a Mexican, not an American, Christ.

"All of this is evidence of the real greatness of Jesus. We each see in Him that which attracts our interest and answers our need. He is the man everybody knows and we know Him in the light of our needs and interests. I suspect that He is a composite of all of our ideas of Him—and more.

"So it is all right to have Jesus as the business man and Jesus as a preacher and Jesus as an oriental or a Mexican IF—And that IF calls attention to the really important thing. If a man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His," says Paul. The really distinctive thing about Jesus is His spirit. Let us be sure that in the Jesus we picture we keep His peculiar spirit. I don't object to Barton's Jesus, or any other man's Jesus if he has the spirit that made Jesus the man of the ages."

GREAT RANSOM IS SUBJECT OF PASTOR'S TALK

The Rev. D. E. Myers, of San Diego, filled the pulpit at the Four Square Gospel church last night and preached on the subject "The Great Ransom." His text was Mark 10:45—"For the son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to give His life for a ransom for many." He said in part:

"It took a life to save life. There was no way that man could be saved but by the life and death of Jesus Christ. That mob which gathered around the cross uttered a greater truth than they realized, when they said, 'He saved others, Himself He cannot save.'"

"Man can only be redeemed and ransomed by the Saviour's blood. The tragedy of Calvary was premeditated in the council of God. There was no other way that God could justify humanity but by the death of His Son. As nails were driven, and the cross lifted into place, we beheld Jesus upon it, the Great Ransom for whosever will believe."

The Rev. Mr. Myers will be at the Four Square church the entire week, where he is conducting a Bible conference, with many surrounding churches co-operating. Some of the subjects which will be taken into consideration are "The Council of the Godhead," "The Altars of the Ages," "The Church Period in Relation to Prophecy," "The Tribulation Period," "The Universal Roundup and the Brand of Hell."

Morning meetings are also to be enjoyed by all who can attend. The Rev. Mr. Myers will base his morning messages on the subject of the Tabernacle. A special chart on the tabernacle will be used. Services are scheduled at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

CHURCH STANDS ON TEACHINGS OF THE SAVIOR

The Rev. John M. Barnhart, pastor of the Methodist church, Huntington Beach, in his sermon Sunday morning spoke in part as follows:

"The church stands firmly upon the teaching of Christ who recognizes that the cleansing of the individual heart by the presence of the Holy Spirit is man's greatest need, for out of the heart are the issues of life. The psalmist recognized this need and prayed 'Create in me a clean heart O God and renew a right spirit within me.' Ps. 51:10.

"The pig will act the same in a parlor as he does in a pen. Drunkenness, infidelity to the marriage vow, unchastity in any form whether of companionate marriage or trial marriage, is just as morally nauseating, just as destructive of peace and happiness of the heart, works just as much misery in the end when practiced by the idle rich in luxurious homes, hotels, or apartments as a similar degraded life in a slum of a large city. The church knows that the indwelling Christ cleans the heart out of which a clean, pure life may flow.

"It is not commonly known that the church has been the greatest reforming agency in the world. Many present day critics are unacquainted with either the teaching or spirit of the church which they seldom or never attend. It is likely that thousands of members know nothing of the social creed of about twenty-eight of the largest Protestant bodies in the world. The church is deeply interested in social justice and welfare.

"It believes in equal rights and complete justice for all men in all stations of life. In the protection of the family by the single standard of purity, uniform divorce laws, property regulation of marriage and proper housing. It believes in the regulation of the conditions of the toil for women as shall safeguard the physical and moral habits of the community. It believes in the fullest possible development of every child, especially the provision of proper education and recreation, and the abolition of child labor. It believes everything possible ought to be done to abate and prevent poverty by the protection of the individual and society from the social economic and moral waste of the liquor traffic.

"It believes in the protection of the worker from dangerous machinery, occupational diseases and injuries. It stands for the right of every man to have a job and that society should protect him from unemployment. It advocates suitable provision for the worker in old age, and for those incapacitated by injury. It stands for the principle of conciliation and arbitration in industrial disputes, and for release from employment one day in seven.

"It advocates a living wage as a minimum in every industry, and for the highest wage that industry can afford. It stands for the most equitable division possible of the product of industry. It stands for the right of employees and employers alike to organize. It advocates that wealth should be acquired in harmony with Christian principles. In short it believes that the new life of the regenerated, Christ-centered person should flow into all of life. It believes not only in feeding the five thousand who may be hungry on account of hurricane, earthquake or crop failure, but in changing the social order to that all preventable stress may be avoided.

"If instead of criticizing and holding aloof from the church folks would become its allies, find its Christ and help to promote this spiritual program the moral progress of the world would be rapid."

TWO LONG RECORDS
IRONTON, Wis., (United Press)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Lawrence, who will observe the 67th anniversary of their marriage here in the fall, claimed another distinction when they completed their 40th year of living in the same house recently.

The Rev. Mr. Myers will be at the Four Square church the entire week, where he is conducting a Bible conference, with many surrounding churches co-operating. Some of the subjects which will be taken into consideration are "The Council of the Godhead," "The Altars of the Ages," "The Church Period in Relation to Prophecy," "The Tribulation Period," "The Universal Roundup and the Brand of Hell."

"The Little Brown Church in the Vale." Below, an interior view showing the old-fashioned box-pew and kerosene lamps installed years ago.

THOUSANDS EACH YEAR VISIT TINY CHURCH MADE FAMOUS IN MELODY COMPOSED BY DOCTOR

An old, sweet song has made famous the Little Brown Church in the Vale, located in northeastern Iowa in the beautiful Cedar river valley. The church still looks as it did when it was dedicated in 1864 by the struggling congregation of pioneers, who contributed the lumber, logs and stone.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Paul's declaration to the Corinthians, "The fashion of this world passeth away," constituted the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter," Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

One of the Scripture citations included Christ Jesus' words: "Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock; and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, contained the following statements: "The testimony of the material senses is neither absolute nor divine. I therefore plant myself unreservedly on the teachings of Jesus, of his apostles, of the prophets, and on the testimony of the Science of Mind. Other foundations there are none."

PERSONAL DUTY IS SUBJECT OF PASTOR'S TALK

At the First United Brethren church the Rev. R. W. Harlow, pastor, spoke Sunday night on the topic, "Personal Responsibilities." (Text Matt. 25:14). He said: "This is the parable of the talents. The householder is an owner of servants. Jesus Christ is the spiritual householder. All Christians are His love servants—stewards. All were called and commissioned. All receive talents—goods of another, capital to start on. All were left alone with their talents, their abilities, opportunities and responsibilities. He gave to each one talents according to their several ability to use. He expected them to use them to His glory. He gave them plenty of time to use them, trade with them, improve them, and he expected a report. He expects us to use the talents He has given us and He expects a final report from us in that great day of accounts.

"These made their report to the householder. The one having five talents came and said 'Lord thou gavest me five talents, behold, I have gained five talents more.' The one having two talents came and also said, 'Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents; behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.' The Master commended them, and says, 'Well done thou good and faithful servant.' Note that they came rejoicing, but here comes the third servant with a different story. He wasn't happy. He hadn't anything to offer but an excuse, and excuses do not make us happy. I know you were a hard master. I was afraid. I took good care of the talent you gave me. I would have used it, but I was afraid I would lose it."

"What an illustration of a lot of twentieth century folks. I see where I could have used it, but I knew I could not do as well as some others and I just could not bear to make blunders, and be laughed at. I would have gone to work. I saw where I could have taken hold, but I didn't want to associate with that bunch. I saw the need, I could have insured success, but! Our excuses will avail us nothing in that great day. The Lord will say to you as He said to him, 'Thou wicked and slothful servant, you know better. Take from him what he has improved his talents, and cast the unprofitable servant (excuse maker) into outer darkness.'"

Orange W.C.T.U. Delegates Named Tuesday Afternoon

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Tuesday at the Christian church parlor after the funeral of George H. Peterson. Members will meet at the log cabin at 1:45 o'clock and attend the funeral. Reports of the county convention will be given at the meeting later in the afternoon. The 13 delegates to the state convention of the W. C. T. U. will be elected.

MINISTER ASKS IF AMERICA IS PAGAN NATION

Some very searching and serious questions were raised yesterday morning in the sermon of the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, in his discussion of "The Message of Hebrew History." The church leader pointed out the need of considering whether or not there was a lesson for modern America in Hebrew history and whether America was becoming pagan with her vitals being eaten out by lax morals and a flippant and cynical attitude toward the fine ideals for which religion stands. The sermon was one of a series of great messages.

"The message of the Hebrew historians is that the strength and security and glory of the Hebrew people is won and retained only as they keep true and loyal to God," the Rev. Mr. Owings declared. "Destruction, be it never so gradual, is nevertheless inevitable for the people who turn from the worship of Jahweh to the idolatry and sensuality attendant upon the worship of other deities. And yet even after the crash and the severe penalty of captivity in a foreign land there is still a chance to rebuild their country and their religion if they will only return to their God.

"Is there a lesson from the Hebrew history for modern America? As spectators we can see the dramatic deterioration of another people. Are we able to read the signs of the times when we ourselves are the players? What of

COLLEGE LAUNCHES CLASSES FOR WOMEN

Believing that a busy housewife should find that a well ordered household gives her hours of unused time which should be utilized in the development of a broader and more interesting life, the Santa Ana Junior college has organized classes for these women.

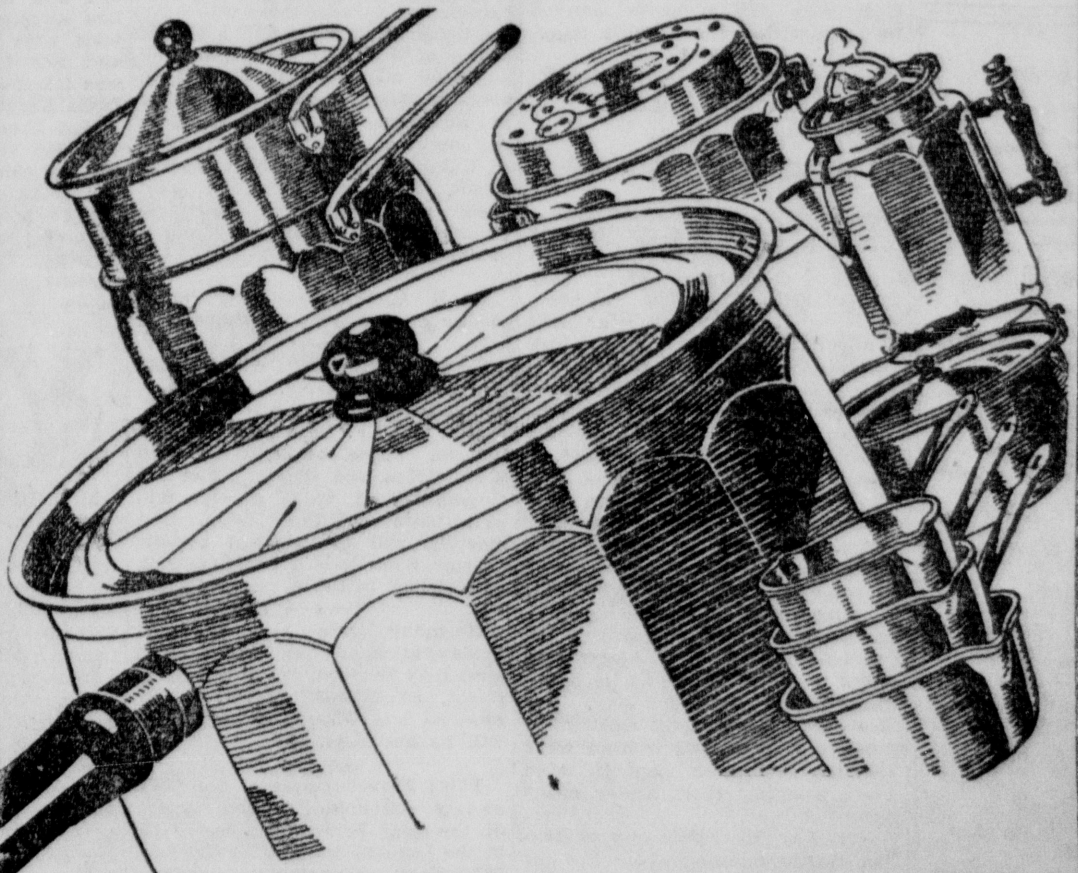

Especially for the women of the community Home Economics department has arranged the following hours: Clothing, Monday and Wednesday afternoons, 1:30 to 4:25; Home Making, Friday afternoon, 1:30 to 4:25.

A regular junior college class in clothing Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, 1:30 to 4:25, with an additional lecture hour is also open to adults for credit.

An America that takes lightly its moral and spiritual and religious idealism and laughs out of court the contention that there is some close relation between religious interest and national welfare or downfall? With God given such slight attention and thought by so many of our people and running a poor second in relation to so many other interests, is America becoming pagan? Is there the possibility that while we are making our coasts secure by armies and navies and are casting anxious eyes at Red movements within our borders our very vitals may be eaten out by lax morals and the flippant and cynical attitude toward the fine ideals for which religion stands? Perchance we need with Kipling the prayer, 'Lord God of hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget.'"

Travelers In Orient Honored at Dinner On Return Home

Returning yesterday from a delightful three months' journey through such fascinating lands as China, Japan and India, Mrs. George Briggs and daughter, Miss Jeannette Briggs, were welcomed by a little group of relatives who gathered at the Briggs home at 644 North Broadway in anticipation of their arrival.

A delectable turkey dinner served as an introduction to the interesting reunion, and was served at a prettily appointed table centered with a long mirror reflecting three china swan vases bearing clusters of asters in pastel tints.

Members of the bridge group especially regretted that Mrs. Briggs was not present, as he has not yet returned from his hunting trip in Alaska. Those sharing the pleasant event with Mrs. Briggs and Miss Jeannette were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timmons and daughter, Betty. Mrs. Louise Potts and daughters, the Misses Frances and Gertrude and son, Clifford Potts, and Mrs. Clyde Bishop.

Mrs. Briggs and her daughter leave tomorrow for San Diego where they will enjoy a few days' visit prior to Miss Jeannette's departure Sunday for Stanford university where she will enroll as a senior.

Miss Marie Rudolph Was A Lovely Bride at Morning Wedding

Enhanced by the delicate beauty of fragrant pink lilies and a background of palms and ferns, St. Joseph's church on Lacy street made a charming setting for the wedding of Miss Marie Rudolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rudolph of 921 Hickory street, to A. R. Muckenthaler, which took place this morning at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Father Eummelen, formerly of this city but now of San Diego, officiated.

Preceding the ceremony, the bride's cousin, Miss Anna Huebner of Grants National park sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Miss Mollie Mosher at the organ. As the rich notes of the organ were modulated into Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bridal party entered, with Miss Rudolph on the arm of her father. The bride, a striking brunette, was beautiful in an ivory satin frock of long lines molded closely to her slender form. A train-like effect was achieved by a panel ruffles the floor in back, while ruffles on the front of the skirt barely touched her ankles. Her veil was caught cap-wise to her hair by a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried gardenias, bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a string of crystals, perfectly cut, the gift of Mr. Muckenthaler.

Miss Augusta Muckenthaler of Long Beach, a cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and was very attractive in chartruese green chiffon, carrying a lovely bouquet of autumn flowers. Miss Anne Shaw of San Diego and Miss Margaret Holtz were bridesmaids, one in yellow and the other in orchid chiffon. Each carried pastel sweet peas and roses.

Mr. Muckenthaler was attended by Leo Young of Orange, as best man, while Joe Eummelen of San Diego and Max Weidenhoff were ushers.

Following the ceremony, was the impressive nuptial mass, with Miss Elizabeth Easton singing Ave Maria. Miss Mosher accompanied at the organ, and at the conclusion of mass played Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the recessional.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed at Rose Arbor Inn, where tables were adorned with pink and white roses, sweet peas, and carnations. Dainty place cards continued the chosen rose motif.

Mr. and Mrs. Muckenthaler departed on a motor trip north as far as San Francisco, the bride wearing a navy blue georgette ensemble with harmonizing accessories. On their return the happy couple will be at home to their many friends at 1109 South Van Ness avenue, where a newly completed home is awaiting them.

The bridegroom is the son of Joseph Muckenthaler of Kansas, and has been in Santa Ana for more than a year as an employee of the city. His bride, a graduate from the local high school, has been employed with the Orange County Title company for the past four years. She plans to continue in her position for a short time.

City P-T. A. Officers Hold First Session In Neighbor Home

A most interesting session was that of Friday of last week when the board of managers of the City Council P-T. A. met in the home of Mrs. Hugh Neighbor at 1234 South Barton street. A pot-luck luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Neighbor, as president of the organization, conducted the business meeting and all of the various officers were introduced. A special guest of the day was Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, Fourth district president.

Mrs. Robertson told of the interest being taken in the Mothers' chorus of the Santa Ana P-T. A. by other communities and associations, and urged all members interested in singing, to ally themselves with the chorus at its opening meeting next Thursday. She also suggested that all association presidents keep child welfare work and the recreation fund in mind when planning their winter meetings.

Mrs. Fay Spangler, city recreation chairman, reported on the improvements planned for the Olive Street bowl. All chairmen of various associations, were asked to be prepared to give three-minute talks at the October meeting, to which all P-T. A. districts of the county will be asked. Dr. Ellen S. Stadtmuller of San Francisco, child hygiene and physical education chairman, is to be the speaker. Decision was reached to enter a float in the Armistice Day parade at Anaheim, and Mrs. Roy Beall was appointed as chairman of the committee to arrange for the feature.

Those sharing Mrs. Neighbor's hospitality were Mesdames Walter Hickey, Alvin Nowotny, F. A. Triplett, W. A. Proctor, Walter Pine, L. Hendrie, J. Edmund Snow, Sam Preble, Roy Gowdy, J. E. Wentworth, B. E. Walbridge, F. M. Heine, R. W. Beal, Belle Spangler, B. J. Lydick, George Ames, E. L. Young, E. A. Schwarm, William Lindsey, Alfred Simmons, A. H. Meyer, Charles Carillo and J. E. Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. Venners Were P. and R. Club Hosts Saturday

Members of the P. and R. Bridge club were pleasantly entertained Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Venners as hosts in their home in Orange. Decorations were carried out by the use of bouquets of brilliant fall blossoms. As a result of the bridge games of the evening, Mrs. Venners herself received the award for holding high score for women, while John State received a desirable prize for upholding honors for men. S. W. Sala was consoled. A delectable refreshment course concluded the delightful evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller of Orange were guests. Members present other than Mr. and Mrs. Venners, were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clem, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sala and Mr. and Mrs. John State.

Endeavor Members Hold Interesting Dinner Meeting

About 18 members of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church met in the church dining hall Friday evening for a 6 o'clock dinner. Tables were prettily decorated with bouquets of autumn flowers, and all arrangements for the affair were in charge of Miss Ida Montgomery, social chairman.

A business session with Clinton Campbell, president of the organization in charge, followed, and plans for the work of the next two weeks were made. Games and contests concluded the interesting evening.

Mrs. Grace Pearce, Endeavor superintendent, and Miss Blanche Cartmel, assistant superintendent, were present.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Members of the Senior Guild of the Church of the Messiah are anticipating their first post-vacation meeting, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to be held in the home of Mrs. W. C. Young, 1206 North Broadway. Many of the members have returned recently from summer vacation journeys, and accounts of their travels are awaited with much interest.

Northeast section members of the First Presbyterian Aid society will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. J. R. Goodwin, 606 East Santa Clara avenue. Miss Mary Craig, committee chairman, will have charge of the program. Members are asked to bring needles and thread as there is sewing to be done. Those desiring transportation may telephone Mrs. Leon Lauderbach 1236R.

Members of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans, and its auxiliary, have been asked to attend the meeting tonight in Los Angeles, of the Quentin Roosevelt, D. A. V., to be held in that city. Automobiles will be waiting at the Legion hall to take those who have no transportation, and a large crowd of Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary members is expected to attend. The September meeting of the auxiliary will be held Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, in Knights of Columbus hall on East Fourth street, where members will greet their president, Mrs. Harry S. Pickard, recently returned from a summer in the east.

W. B. A. will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in Woodman hall.

Sycamore Rebekahs will be hostesses to District No. 50 Saturday, September 27, at an all-day meeting in I. O. O. F. hall, beginning at 10 a. m. There are eight lodges in the district, and the school of instruction held twice a year will be a feature of the session. The meeting will be followed by the regular Sycamore Rebekah session at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Harmony Bridge club will meet Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bert Dawson, 521 South Birch street, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Mary Shawgo and Mrs. Elizabeth Park will be hostesses.

Third Travel section of the Ebell society will hold its first meeting of the year Friday, September 26, in the home of Mrs. A. M. Gardner, 223 East Washington avenue. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock.

For the benefit of mothers who are in business, the Mother's club of the First Congregational church will have an evening meeting in the home of Mrs. Perry F. Schrock, 205 West Twentieth street, tomorrow evening at 7:30. Mrs. Edward D. Gaylor of Los Angeles will be the speaker of the evening, and has chosen as her topic, "The Fulfillment of Personality."

The Brotherhood of the First Congregational church is sponsoring a dinner meeting tomorrow evening in the church dining room. All are invited to attend, and reservations must be in the church of not later than tomorrow noon. The Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Gaylor of Los Angeles will be the speakers. They have just returned from a trip to Japan and China.

Santa Ana lodge B. P. O. E., 794, will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. There will be refreshments and entertainment.

There will be a special meeting of the Parliamentary and Business Law classes Wednesday, September 24, in the Y. M. C. A. at 1 p. m. All members are requested to be present.

Brother and Sister Are Reunited After More Than 50 Years

Yesterday was a rarely beautiful day to practically everyone in the Southland, its invigorating breezes and cloud-flecked blue skies, making it a perfect autumn day. But to Daniel H. Conrad and his family of Costa Mesa, it was more than a merely beautiful day—it was one of those memorable occasions marked by happiness so deep that it was almost pain. For Mr. Conrad and his sister, Mrs. Annie Proctor of Poplar Bluff, Mo., were reunited after a separation of more than 50 years.

The four-year-old lad who gazed sorrowfully after his eight-year-old sister as she left the little home in Grayson county, Texas, to live with her grandmother in Indiana, after the death of the young mother of the family, carried the longing for that sister as he turned away with his father, for the long journey by covered wagon to California, the land of their dreams. For the sad young father kept his two motherless little lads with him, and they alternately rode in the big prairie schooner and trudged along the rough highway.

The intervening years failed to bring the sister and brothers together, for the latter accompanied their father north into Oregon, and eventually to Whitman county, Wash., by pack train. Meanwhile their sister grew to womanhood in Indiana, married and went to Missouri to live, and gradually the letters between them became fewer.

In 1923, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Conrad with their family came to Santa Ana to live, and two years after that Fate brought the sister and brother very close, although neither knew it. For Mrs. Proctor's daughter, Mrs. Sidney Morgan, was living in Pasadena, and her mother came to visit in her home. They actually spent a few days with friends in Santa Ana, never dreaming that they had relatives living here.

Then last Christmas, when thoughts of home and loved ones filled every heart, Mr. Conrad sent greetings to his sister's old address—the only one he knew. Those greetings reached her, as Uncle Sam has a way of occasionally playing fairy godmother and making dreams come true, and plans were immediately made that Mrs. Proctor come to California again this fall.

She arrived at the end of the week, and yesterday sister and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, with their two little sons, Spencer and Douglas, hastened to the Conrad home, and brother and sister were together after a lapse of 55 years.

There were other members of the family circle to share the happy occasion, married only by the sorrow that the second brother did not live to see the day, his death occurring less than two months ago. But Mrs. Ansel M. Broom, daughter of the home, young Frances Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. James Conrad of Balboa, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Conrad of Los Angeles, were present to rejoice with their father and aunt, and her family. Wilbur Conrad was married quite recently to Miss Doris Kearns of this city.

Mrs. Proctor will remain for an extended visit in California, dividing her time between the home of her daughter in Pasadena, the Conrad home in Costa Mesa, and that of her son, Charles Byrd, of Fellows, who was unable to be present at yesterday's happy reunion.

You and Your Friends

Mrs. Gertrude McDowell of Santa Monica, has arrived to be the guest over the week-end, of Mrs. Roy Skiles, 315 West Third street. Alfred Schulze, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schulze, 702 East Second street, has returned from Lansing, Mich., where he completed a four-year apprenticeship course for machinists at the Reo Motor company.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Nunn, formerly of this city but now of Los Angeles, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wager, 1009-1-2 West Walnut street, Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Wager spent Saturday night and Sunday in Banning with friends.

Mrs. Ray Aunger, Mrs. Lillian Roy and Miss Josephine Roy of this city, returned last evening from an automobile trip to Santa Barbara and the surrounding country. They were gone for several days.

Miss Beulah Dudgeon, daughter of Mrs. Belle Dudgeon, 211 South Birch street, returned today to her duties in the law office of Head, Wellington and Jacobs, after a pleasant vacation spent in Phoenix, Ariz.

The many Santa Ana friends of Mrs. Emily L. Jarvis will be sorry to hear of her recent illness at the home of her son, Stephen M. Jarvis, in Los Angeles. She has returned to Balboa but is planning to leave early in October for Chicago, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Mackay-Scott, for several months and later will take up residence in Boston, to be near other members of her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Walker, of Walker's State theater, left Friday on the S. S. Alexander for Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver. They will be gone for about two weeks.

Mrs. V. P. Sterrett of Beaumont, Tex., who has been spending the summer here with her sister, Mrs. E. J. McCoy, Davidson court, left Saturday for San Jose for a visit.

Pan-Hellenic Society Announces Plans For New Year

With the resumption of winter activities, members of National Pan-Hellenic of Santa Ana, are anticipating an unusually interesting program for the coming months, when these members of the Greek letter sisterhood representing universities and colleges all over the United States, will continue their regular meetings.

Tuesday evening, September 30, has been announced as the opening meeting date, when members will be entertained in the home of Mrs. William L. Dehning, 1323 North Broadway, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Two important amendments are to be voted on at this time, and a full attendance is desired.

Members of the executive board will form the hostess group, and are Mrs. Maurice Enderle, president; Miss Frances Battey, vice-president; Mrs. W. H. Wright, secretary; Miss Genevieve Owen, membership chairman, and Mrs. Loyola E. King, treasurer.

The meeting will be open not only to all old members, but to any new ones who are eligible and wish to affiliate with the organization. A board meeting was held last week in the home of Mrs. Enderle on Yorba street, at which time it was decided that all former members of Pan-Hellenic were eligible to membership this year upon payment of dues for the current year. There are 25 Greek letter fraternities; membership in any one of which, will entitle its holder to enter the National Pan-Hellenic of Santa Ana, according to Mrs. Enderle, always providing that she is a member in good standing in her chapter.

This list comprising National Pan-Hellenic, is made up of Alpha Delta Phi, Phi Mu, Phi Beta Phi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi Delta Gamma, Sigma Kappa, Gamma Phi Beta, Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Delta Zeta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Beta Phi Alpha, Alpha Delta Theta, Theta, Upsilon, Sigma Phi Beta, Beta Sigma Omicron, Lambda Omega and Phi Omega Pi.

Letter Carriers Honor Retiring Member at Dinner Meeting

On Saturday night, the letter carriers of Branch 737 N. A. L. C. and their families met in Modern Woodmen hall on East Fourth street to pay honor to William J. Morrison who retired from the postal service on September 1, 1930, after 24 years and 8 months of serving Uncle Sam.

The evening's entertainment opened with a 6:30 dinner prepared under the direction of Seth Bullock, the "chef" for Branch 737. Orange cocktail, Virginia baked ham, sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, apple sauce, lima beans, tomato salad and coffee, with ice cream and cake for dessert, comprised the menu.

After dinner the guests adjourned to the main hall where a very pleasing program had been arranged by Messrs. Roberts, Hoover and Tucker with Mr. Hoover as master of ceremonies. The program opened with a group of numbers by a musical trio from the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, which was very well received. Miss Lucille Andrews, a little dancer from the Santa Ana School of Dance and Expression, gave three numbers, a toe ballet, Boverly clog, and the hula hula.

Little Billy Elin Mitchell of the same school, gave a clever reading entitled, "Miss Edith Helps Things Along" in Mrs. L. L. Beman entertained in her most pleasing way with a group of four readings. The Hilo Hawaiian trio played for the remainder of the evening.

During the progress of the program, L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mails, spoke briefly on the service given by Mr. Morrison in his quarter of a century with the post office department, and of the many friends he has made in that service. Charles W. White, president of the local association, presented Mr. Morrison with a very beautiful billfold, after reviewing the many pleasant associations of the fleeting years.

Mr. White also presented Howard Coffelt, a member of the branch and a recent bridegroom, with an electric waffle iron, with the best wishes of the branch. Sunkissed auxiliary 220 N. A. L. C. members through their president, Mrs. Elma McKay, presented Mrs. Morrison with a very pretty gift.

She will return to this city and then leave shortly for her home in Texas.

Miss Melissa Burt, 515 West Cubbon street, and Mrs. J. T. Wool, 704 South Birch street, spent Saturday in San Bernardino and Riverside.

Miss Elpha Thorndike, who is attending U. C. L. A., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Thorndike, 1528 North Broadway.

Miss Wilda Rohr Was Made Honoree at Gay Party

Although Miss Wilda Rohr knew that plans for an evening party honoring her birthday anniversary were in progress, she was not aware of the delightful little details which were arranged by Miss Dorothy Kloess, and carried out when she entertained Saturday evening in her home at 515 South Main street. The home was gay with autumn flowers in brilliant hues, which formed a perfect setting for the affair.

Bridge occupied the earlier part of the evening, and when tallies were checked, it was revealed that the honoree herself held high score while Miss Evelyn Jeffers was consoled. Dancing followed, and after this interesting diversion a delectable refreshment course carrying out a green and pink color scheme was served.

Those sharing the pleasant evening with Miss Kloess, other than the honoree, Miss Rohr, were the Misses Maxine Jeffers, Alice Boyd, Janet Forbes, Evelyn Jeffers, Mary Eudaley, Irene Buck and Helen Demetrios.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Sept. 22.—The Happy Workers' society will hold the regular monthly public dinner and business meeting on Wednesday at the church hall and Mrs. Thomas Hosack's committee will serve the dinner.

The committee met at the hall one afternoon the last of the week to plan for the dinner and a change of committee heads took place. Mrs. E. Larter, who has been chairman for many years, resigning in favor of Mrs. Hosack. Members of the committee are Mrs. M. J. P. Hell, Mrs. R. E. Larter, Mrs. A. B. Chane, Mrs. Alice Hare, Mrs. Marie Hare, Mrs. Beatrice Knapp, Mrs. Virginia Patterson, and Mrs. Hosack.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Day, Mrs. Harry Penhall, Mary Lou Hare, Mrs. Orvil Day, Miss Shirley Day, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hosack, Mrs. Ruth Penhall, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Campbell attended the musical recital given Friday evening at the First Christian church of Santa Ana by pupils of Miss Arline Birchard, a number of whom are of Westminster.

Birthday Club Holds Enjoyable Meeting In Irvine Park

Beginning their evening's pleasures with a steak bake, members of the Birthday club met in Irvine park Saturday night in observance of national days of Mrs. Clyde Bach and Dr. W. E. Watkins. Tables were prettily decorated with large baskets of autumn flowers and ferns, place cards were the creations of Mrs. Mary Rowley, and bore unique verses especially appropriate for each of the members.

Receiving special commendation was the dessert prepared by Miss Mary Craig. Guests were so delighted with the rich confection, angel food cake topped with whipped cream, chocolate dip and other delicacies, that they called it "Birthday Special," the two honor guests received a number of attractive gifts.

Adjourning to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sauters in Tustin, members experienced a delightful evening, with the men of the crowd playing billiards.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Walter Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bach, Mrs. Mary Rowley, Miss Mary Craig, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. John Sauters and son, John Vernon Sauters.

Jaysee Frosh to Be Initiated Tonight

"Ship Ahoy! All ashore that's going ashore! Ship leaves at 8 sharp! Bring your frosh Bibles and wear your frosh pins or suffer the consequences!" Such were some of the spirited announcements that today were being circulated around the junior college campus in anticipation of the annual Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Mixer which is to be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Andrew's gymnasium to initiate freshmen of the college.

This initiation is to take the form of a ship's party, carrying out all the ideas of a day on board ship. Many interesting sea and ship games have been planned by Miss Joanna Day and Lawson Watkins, program chairman.

Exciting and intriguing ideas for the initiation of the green freshmen have been provided for by Miss Marian Parsons and Bob Williams, initiation chairmen. They have also decided to punish particularly those who do not have frosh pins and "Bibles." These unfortunate freshmen will be called stowaways.

The decoration committee is composed of Miss Geraldine Cole, chairman; Miss Maybelle Ball, Eldon Bragg and Caidon Stillwell. Miss Juliette Taylor and Cardwell Oglesby have charge of the refreshments.

La Habra Couple Wedded In This City

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Curry Jr. in this city, was the scene of a quiet but prettily appointed wedding last week, when Miss Beulah May Mathis and Carl Curry of La Habra, were married here. The young people were accompanied by the bridegroom's brother, L. O. Curry and family of La Habra. A pink and white color scheme was used for the decorations, and was apparent in the elaborate dinner served before the young people left on their honeymoon, whose destination remained their own secret.

WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME

Cake—Simple But Delicious

Some time ago I received a request for a simple, light cake that would not be expensive to make, nor too rich to be eaten by children. I am offering a recipe today which fits both requirements. The recipe started out to be a sponge cake, but by subtracting part of the eggs and adding a little butter, a delicious light cake was the result. I baked it in a pan, 8x10 inches, lined the pan with buttered paper and put a thin coating of brown sugar frosting over it.

A TWO-EGG SHEET CAKE

2 eggs, yolk and whites separated
1 cup white sugar
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
6 tablespoons boiling water
1 cup and 3 tablespoons sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
Pinch of salt

Cream sugar and butter smoothly, add egg yolks and cream to mix, then the grated lemon rind or some other flavoring extract, and the six tablespoons of boiling water. Mix in the flour and baking powder, sifted together before mixing, then whip the batter to a smooth perfection with the egg beater; add the stiffly beaten whites, whipping them into the batter rather than folding them. Pour the batter into a pan lined with oiled paper and bake from 15 to 20 minutes, depending on the size of the pan and thickness of the cake. Set the oven for 350 degrees F. but reduce to 300 degrees when the cake is put in the oven. Protect the top with paper after it has risen and browned.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Candied Figs
Figs
3 cups white sugar
1 1/2 cups water
Juice of 1 lemon
I have had several requests recently for a recipe for candying figs. I know this recipe to be reliable and hope those who asked for it will see it and clip the recipe. I cannot answer personally letters asking for information when it interests so many others.

Use either white or black figs, but preferably the former. Select figs that are uniform in size and evenly ripened, but not over-ripened. Wash them (do not nip off the stem) and dry carefully on a tea towel. Make a syrup from the sugar, water and lemon juice and when it is very thick put in enough of the figs so that the flat cooking pan is comfortably full and the syrup well up around the figs.

Simmer for 30 minutes, and during this time keep pouring the boiling syrup over the figs with a spoon, skimming off the scum as well. Let the figs stay in the syrup for 24 hours, remove them carefully, bring the syrup again to the boiling point and simmer the figs 30 minutes.

When the stem looks transparent the figs are thoroughly candied. Lift from the syrup with a skimmer and drain on a rack or on plates in a cool oven. Roll in sifted powdered sugar before storing.

A good sized fig, after candying, will be worth 150 calories, all good for that much heat and energy.

ERRORS IN DIET is the subject discussed in this week's leaflet. It is available free of charge all week on receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope. Get this leaflet if you are interested in correct dieting.

Tomorrow's lesson will be on making Cream Puffs and suggestions for filling them.

Veterans Daughters

Enjoy All-day Meeting

Another of their famous surprise dish luncheons was shared yesterday by members of Sarah A. Rounds tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, who experienced the friendly hospitality of the home of Mrs. Anna Friend in Costa Mesa.

Serving as a hostess committee with Mrs. Friend, were Mesdames Maude Sutton, Mollie Butler, Elizabeth Adams and Estelle Anderson, and the five women made it a memorable day for their sister workers. Luncheon was an especially pleasant affair, served buffet style, with the guests seeking small tables placed about the house, to lunch in groups of four.

In the afternoon, each turned her attention to her favorite diversion, with tables arranged for bridge, "500" and croquet. Some of the Daughters had their family work, and chatted to the accompaniment of flying needles. Little Miss Fay Sutton, daughter of Mrs. Maude Sutton, and her young friend, Lorraine Johnson of San Diego, sang two pretty songs, and Marcia Friend, little 4-year-old daughter of the home, delighted the guests with her little songs.

In all, there were about 25 Daughters of Veterans present to share the occasion.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Sept. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lambert sr., of San Juan street, left Wednesday for an extended train trip to Pennsylvania. They expect to stop at several places enroute.

Miss Lois and Arden Murray, accompanied by their grandmother and aunt of Orange, spent Sunday at Forest Home.

The Christian Endeavor society for the Tustin Presbyterian church held its second meeting Sunday evening in the church. Glenn Moody, extension worker of El Modena, was the speaker of the evening. The members held nominations for new officers and pledges were made.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Murray Ernest Byrne and E. A. Watson spent Sunday at Watson's ranch near Hemet hunting deer.

N. L. Edson entertained at dinner Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Palmer and daughter, Janis, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Dickman and son, Wayne, and daughter Verla, of Waterloo, Iowa, and Louise Archer, of Tustin.

W. B. Hellis, Miss Gertrude Hellis and their mother attended the Los Angeles County fair at Pomona Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Edson took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Berger of Brea. In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Edson attended the B. Y. P. U. convention at Garden Grove.

Long Beach and Compton were visited by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Archer and family Sunday afternoon.

Judge Carl A. Stutsman, of Hollywood, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stutsman, of South Newport road, over the week end.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Sept. 22.—The Queen Esther will meet tonight at the social hall. A unique plan of paying dues is used by having an old fashioned school and the mothers, who are the guests of honor, will bring their daughters to school and pay their tuition and thus the dues will be paid in.

The J. B. Club met at the home of the W. F. Holden on Whittier Boulevard Friday night. A chicken dinner was served at 7 o'clock. All the members were present with the exception of two. The two absent were Bruce Stanford and Richard Launer, whose places were filled by Tom Mahoney and Edgar Luehm.

Mrs. Schlagenhauf and Jack Cheung won first prize and Mrs. Gluth and Edgar Luehm received the trophy prize. Next month the club will meet at the home of the Richard Launers.

Seventy-five young people were present at a social meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union held Friday evening at the Baptist church. The evening was spent with various "get acquainted" games, stunts and contents.

The program consisted of two skits. These were followed by two speeches, one by Paul Thornton and Ralph Zumwalt. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

"DEVIL MAY CARE" ENDS HERE TONIGHT

Ramon Navarro, both talking and singing, was the novelty which drew a full house of the young man's admirers to Walker's State last night. Curiously, however, was soon replaced by definite and complete admiration, for "Devil-May-Care" is a corking picture, and Ramon Navarro is even more interesting vocally than he was in his long series of successful silent pictures.

His singing voice is lovely. "Devil-May-Care" closes tonight.

TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Sept. 22.—Perry Kenyon and sister, Miss Elizabeth Kenyon, left Thursday via the Grand Canyon for the east. During the month and one-half, they expect to be gone, they plan to make stops in Denver, Iowa, Chicago and Vancouver, B. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Christensen, of Kansas, are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Christensen, of Holt avenue. The length of their stay is indefinite.

Mrs. James Warner and daughter, Virginia, of McFadden street, recently returned from a trip to Oregon. Two months were spent in Portland. From Portland several trips were taken into Washington and along the Columbia River highway. While they were in Oregon they visited the two Oregon state colleges. They were also visitors to the university of Washington and Mills college.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church was held Wednesday afternoon at the church. Miss Grant of Sierra Madre, is the house guest of Miss Cora Taylor, of McFadden street.

Frank Griset, Mr. Holyland and Philip H. Ebel left early Thursday morning for northern California to hunt deer. While they are gone they expect to visit H. B. Tatum, Mr. Griset's brother-in-law, a former resident of Tustin.

SANTA ANA GARDENS

Mrs. E. Mendenhall and daughter Mary, of Santa Ana, were Sunday callers in the H. Pague home.

Lena and Madeline Carelli, Miss Thelma Brockett, of Greenville, Ethel and Allen Rice, Mike Muzum, Raymond McCullah, Bob Baker, Lloyd Patterson and Elmer Past spent Sunday at Irvine Park.

COLLISION SHOWN
The collision of two ships at sea is a spectacular and thrilling moment in George Bancroft's new starring picture for Paramount, "Typhoon Bill."

IN 'THE SPOILERS'

Garry Cooper and Betty Compson in a scene from the famous Rex Beach story, "The Spoilers," which comes to the Fox Broadway theater today for a four-day run.

"THE SPOILERS" AT 'GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST' OPENS HERE

"The Spoilers," famous Rex Beach adventure story which is known throughout the country, makes its initial appearance in Santa Ana today in the form of an all-talking picture. The film opens at the Fox Broadway theater to play for four days.

It has been seen on the stage and it has been seen as a silent film, with Milton Sills in the leading role, but Paramount's new version of the spectacular film is said to be the greatest that has ever been produced.

Garry Cooper has the role of the fighting gold hunter, haunted by two women, one bad, the other good, while an all-star cast is seen in support, including Betty Compson, Kay Johnson, William Boyd and Slim Summerville.

It is the story of a man's love for the battle for gold in the Klondike. It is the story of a man's love for a girl and his battle against great odds to win her. It is the story of hardship and courage, with a fist fight in it that will thrill any audience.

Aside from the feature, a Fox Movietone newsreel, together with an all-talking comedy and other short subjects also are shown.

FORBES IN CAST
Ralph Forbes is Clara Bow's leading man in her new starring picture for Paramount, "Her Wedding Night."

MACKENNA AS SCIENTIST
Kenneth Mackenna plays the role of a young scientist in Paramount's "The Vicious Sin," featuring Walter Huston and Kay Francis.

W. C. Jerome Speaks At Woman Voters' Meeting

Explaining the changes in Orange county government in the last 20 years, W. C. Jerome spoke before members of the League of Women Voters yesterday morning when they met at 10 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. He was introduced by Mrs. M. J. Marks.

Jerome stated that 20 years ago the county lacked among other things, a county department, a budget system, a welfare department and a county purchasing agency. Today the officers of the county are keeping their expenditures within the budget and for the last four years the expenses have remained static, Jerome continued.

The speaker told of a recent visit to Monterey, where he gave the address of the day. This city has recently adopted the plan of a city manager, and it has proved highly satisfactory.

WHAT'S NEXT, HE ASKS

FORT WAYNE, Ind., (United Press)—Bruno Meyer, 22, thinks America is a great place except for prohibition. He worked for 69 years as a moulder but he didn't mind it as long as he had two glasses of beer every evening after work, he said. "Next thing you know they'll be taking my pipe away and then I don't think I'll care to live any more," he said. His pipe is one of his chief interests since he retired 12 years ago. He does not like home brew, automobiles, radios or airplanes.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

The view of Zurich, from the stream, to the Tinies, was like a dream. "I've never seen a spot like this," said Scouty, with a grin. "I'll bet the folks who come each year are always glad that they are here. This is one of the nicest places we have ever seen." "You bet," replied the Travel Man. "By looking 'round you Tinies can see hills and valleys not far off and level ground nearby. Before we leave we'll take a hike. It's something that I know you'll like. Just look how everything stands out against that pretty sky."

Just then another boat drew nigh. It stopped before it passed on by. A kindly man within it said, "I hope you will stay and join our carnival tonight. It always is a wonderful sight. Canoes are drifting everywhere." Then he went on his way.

"Say, that's a good idea. We are just as lucky as can be."

Imagine getting here in time for such a stunt as this," said Copy. "We'll have heaps of fun. Let's row ashore right now and run to some place where they rent canoes. Not one thing will we miss."

They all thought that the thing to do and soon they'd rented a canoe. "Let's fix it up with lanterns," shouted Clowny. "We'll look great. We'll fasten them from stern to bow. The time to do it is right now. We'll be part of the carnival. Oh, I can hardly wait!"

My, everything was set that night and what a very pretty sight! Lake Zurich seemed just covered with canoes that drifted 'round. The Tinies paddled here and there and watched lights flicker in the air. As Clowny paddled, someone said, "Don't run our boat around."

(The Tinymites visit Lake Lucerne in the next story.)

Missing Letter Links

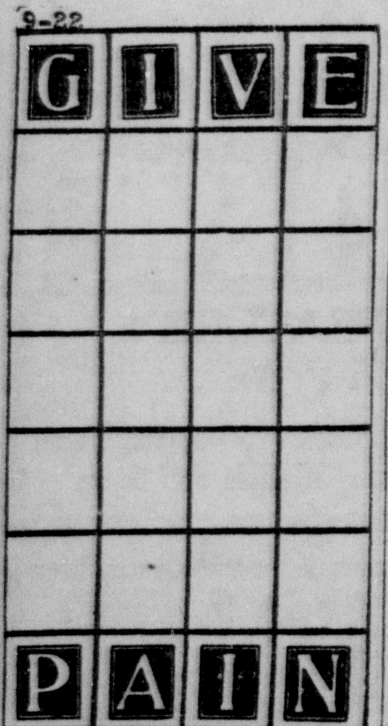

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

CROWDS FLOCK TO BEACH CITY OVER WEEK END

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—Two of the season's biggest days at the beach were enjoyed here Saturday and Sunday. Saturday was children's day under the auspices of the chamber of commerce. The Associated Oil company employees held their picnic here Saturday. Sunday motor-cycle dealers entertained riders of Southern California at a beach picnic.

Hundreds of children enjoyed the children's day program. A group picture was taken of the children, following which toy airplanes, balloons and other prizes were distributed to the boys and girls. Later, athletic contests, consisting chiefly of foot races, were held under the direction of James Ray, Mrs. Mary Cannon and Mrs. Maxwell of the elementary school faculty. First prize in the races was 50 cents in trade good at any store in the city and second prize was 25 cents in trade at any store in town.

Prize winners were as follows: For entrants age 6 to 7 years, boys' race, Ben Franklin Meyers, first; John Carlson, second; girls' race, Shirley Morse, first; Ruth Baldwin, second; entrants 8 to 9 years, boys' race, Harold Wood, first; Dale McNeil, second; girls' race, Betty Rowe, first; Joanna Lewis, second; entrants 10 and 11 years, boys' race, Gordon Stien, first; Garvin Morse, second; girls' race, Aroyo Bell, first; June Elliott, second; entrants 12 and 13 years, boys' race, Owen Linner, first; Sam Graham, second; girls' race, Beulah Lewis, first; Dorothy Reid, second; entrants 14 and 15 years, boys' race, Bobby Wingate, first; Alfred Cusolito, second; girls' race, Evelyn Salisbury, first; Marie Huff, second; wheelbarrow race, Clifford Cady and Woodrow Frost, first; Owen Lindner and Swen Hamren, second; walking race, girls, Beulah Lewis, first; Dorothy Reid, second.

Ball games, a barbecue dinner, a dance in the afternoon, athletic contests and a surf and plunge swimming featured the picnic of the Associated Oil company employees Saturday. They came in delegations from the various fields where the Associated Oil company is active. About 450 were here for the big annual outing.

La Habra Group Starts Contest

LA HABRA, Sept. 22.—A contest is in progress at the Baptist church. The two sides are the Reds and the Blues. Miss Margaret Thornton is captain of the Reds and has two assistant captains, Fred Jordan and Harold Curry. The Blues' captain is Velva Colley, who has Winnie Zumwalt and Armetta Curry for her assistants.

To the winning side there will be given a hay-ride party with a Weiner bake afterwards. The contest will last a month.

Woman's Club Of Mission City In Golf Tournament

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Sept. 22.—The Chiquita golf course on Oriental street will be the scene of an interesting tournament to be staged by the members of the San Juan Capistrano Women's club tonight and tomorrow night. The club has recently started a fund for the purchase of a lot to be used later as a building site for a new clubhouse and the president, Mrs. C. Russell Cook, has made arrangements with C. L. Congdon, proprietor of the Chiquita course, whereby the entire proceeds derived from the tournament will be donated to the club for this fund.

Carl A. Romer, local merchant, is offering a prize to the winner. Practically every member has signified her intention of entering the competition and a large and enthusiastic crowd is expected to be on hand.

Next month a carnival will be held at the high school gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Ferris F. Kelly.

120 FRESHMEN AT PARTY IN TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Sept. 20.—Freshmen of the Tustin high school held their initiation at the school auditorium last night at 7:30 o'clock. Approximately 120 freshmen were on hand. After an introduction by the master of ceremonies, Lucas Conkey, a senior, groups and individuals were made to do stunts. One group acted out "The Bridge" by Longfellow, while another group was made to bark. A short play, "The Black Hand," written by Don Hall, a local student, was presented by the dramatics class with a cast as follows: Mr. Jackson, Joe Barnett; Mrs. Jackson, Norma Tattler; the daughter, Martha Hendricks; the Negro butler, Robert Harris; and the offstage noises, Rachel Jones.

After the short skit, the student body, the teachers, and the parents adjourned to the cafeteria, where animal crackers and ice cream were served.

Hold Funeral Of Mrs. Zetta Harris

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Funeral services for Mrs. Zetta E. Sellers Harris, 36, former resident of Fullerton, who died Thursday afternoon at the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles as the result of a sudden illness, were held yesterday at 3 p. m. at the Brown Brothers funeral chapel in Los Angeles. Burial was at Angeles Abbey mausoleum. Mrs. Harris, who had lived in Fullerton about four years ago, was well known in Orange county and had relatives in Fullerton.

Mrs. Harris is survived by her husband, a son, Walter, 8; and a daughter, Dorothy Louise, 12; two sisters, Mrs. M. J. Richardson, and Mrs. Paul H. Hill, both of Fullerton; three brothers, Walter, Thurston and Verne A. Thurston of Weewoka, Okla.

W.C.T.U. Told Of Eastern Journey

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 22.—The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Luella Beardsley, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Pauline Merchant, director of S. T. I. work and local school teacher, gave an account of her trip east during the summer. Mrs. Merchant was a delegate to the N. E. A. convention at Columbus, Ohio. A resolution was passed by the union, protesting against the Orange county fair advertisement on the front page of the Garden Grove News of September 19. There were 12 delegates appointed to attend the state convention at Santa Ana, October 7 to 10. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed while the hostess served refreshments.

Attorneys Move From Beach City

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—James L. Hanson, attorney with offices at 113 1-2 Main street, is closing his offices here and opening law offices in Long Beach. Ray Overacker, of this city, recently admitted to the bar, will occupy the office vacated by Attorney Hanson.

A. J. Thedick, attorney at law with offices in the Shank building, will close his offices here and open law offices in Los Angeles. Judge Chris P. Fann, justice of the peace and attorney, will occupy the offices vacated by Attorney Thedick, taking a suite for his law offices and a vacant room for the justice court.

'RICHES OF HIS GRACE' SUBJECT IN PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Sept. 22.—Mephibosheth, born of the rebellious house of Saul, living in poverty in Lodebar, as told in second Samuel, the ninth chapter, was used to typify the natural man by the Rev. Charles E. Fuller in his sermon at Calvary church Sunday morning on "The Riches of His Grace."

The pastor said in part: "Mephibosheth, helpless lame and in poverty, was sought out by King David, living a life of beauty, dignity and wealth, in order that he might show 'the kindness of God unto him,' and Mephibosheth, believing in the call, humbled himself to David, surrendered unconditionally, and came to the king's house, where he was welcomed and where his position was that of a son."

"As David called Mephibosheth, so is Christ, through the Holy Spirit, calling those in the world today to whom He may show His love, offering full forgiveness and the riches of His grace to those who answer the call."

In the evening the pastor talked on "The Blessed Man" from the first Psalm, which compares the godly man with the ungodly, and which "holds the key to all happiness."

Harold Alexander of the Hollywood Gospel team, was soloist in the evening, singing "Remember" and at the morning service James Davis, of Long Beach, sang "It Was for Me" and Anton Von Esen gave a cello solo.

Next Wednesday the Rev. Mr. Fuller will continue studying Daniel at the prayer meeting.

The Dorcas society will meet Thursday, September 25, for an all day meeting.

Next Sunday will be Rally day for the Sunday school, with the program beginning at 9:30 a. m.

200 ATTRACTED TO SESSION OF ENDEAVOR BODY

PLACENTIA, Sept. 22.—The Rev. C. C. Root of the Anaheim Christian church gave the address of the afternoon at the Orange County Christian Endeavor rally Sunday afternoon at the Anaheim Evangelical church, 200 members being present.

"Loyalty to the Church" was the subject of the Rev. Mr. Root's talk, and he said: "The church is not a building, not a denomination and not a Christian Endeavor society, but it is the church of the Scriptures. There are no hypocrites in the church, they are but barnacles on the ship of Zion."

"The young people of today need as never before to be taught the spiritual truth of the real church and loyalty to the church means loyalty to Christ."

The Rev. Mr. Martin of the Orange Avenue Christian church, Santa Ana, opened the meeting with prayer. Robbie Anderson led the meeting. Leland Green led in singing and gave a vocal solo and Mrs. Hattie Hopkins was at the piano.

Margaret Schneider reported on the executive board meeting held at the Orange Presbyterian church Saturday.

Miss Dorothy Abbott, president of the union, will return from the World conference of C. E. at Berlin October 2, and a reception is being planned in her honor by the county union.

The shield for the largest attendance at the meeting was won by the Orange Avenue Christian church of Santa Ana.

PLACENTIA CLUBS STARTING SESSIONS

PLACENTIA, Sept. 2.—Calvary church clubs begin their regular sessions for the year this week, with Miss Edith McNutt, Miss Ruth Hunter and Don Milligan as leaders.

Monday the seventh and eighth grade girls meet at 4 p. m.; Tuesday the third and fourth grade girls meet at 3 p. m.; Wednesday the girls of the fifth and sixth grades meet at 4 p. m. and on Wednesday evening the Eteri club, for high school, college and business girls, meets at 5:45 for a covered dish dinner.

The Senior Fishermen meet at 7:30 Monday evening, and on Wednesday afternoon the Senior Prospectors, for seventh and eighth grade boys, meet at 4 p. m. Junior Prospectors meet Thursday at 4 p. m. and Junior Fishermen meet Saturday at 7:30 p. m.

LA HABRA, Sept. 22.—The condition of Mrs. Burt Williams, who became seriously ill after being bitten by a black spider last week, was improved today, although she will be confined to her home for several days.

Patrol Leaders Elected By Costa Mesa Boy Scouts

COSTA MESA, Sept. 22.—The Scouts, with Lloyd Willcutt as scoutmaster, have started their fall activities with enthusiasm. Thirty boys were present at the election for patrol leaders.

The following were elected: Hugh Davis, Fred Merrick, Frank Chapman, Leonard Collins and Emil Myrehn. Bill Bremer and Royal Wellington were elected baseball captains.

$25,000 GOLF COURSE OPENED IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—The Huntington Beach municipal golf course, a $25,000 project completed through co-operation of oil companies, business firms, civic organizations, schools and the municipality, with use of the grounds donated by the Huntington Beach company and the Standard Oil company, was formally opened to the public Saturday afternoon. The opening program was attended by several hundred people.

W. R. Osborn, president of the chamber of commerce, delivered the opening address in which he dedicated the beautiful new, nine-hole course to the public use, as a gift from the various firms, corporations and organizations, responsible for its completion.

Immediately following the opening address, golf players teed off for the games that featured the opening program. Mayor Sam R. Bowen, cracked out the opening shot on the new links. Following him to complete the first forenoon were W. N. Thompson, Fred Brooks and W. D. Young. With the first players started on the rounds other teams were called to the tee off as follows:

Associated Oil company, Colton, Green, Miller and Giles; women's foursome, Mrs. W. N. Thompson, Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Mrs. Gordon Talbert and Mrs. Harry Sheue. This foursome was notable through the breaking of par by Mrs. McDonald, her score winning for the golf club a $250 tractor offered by W. D. Young, Ford dealer, for any player breaking par.

Independent Oil operators: Anderson Hallway; women's foursome, Mrs. Ed Wilson, Mrs. William Coehens, Mrs. Ernie Kettler, Mrs. William Kettler, Standard Oil; Hengold, Burkey, Mrs. G. E. Furr, Mrs. T. R. Talbert, Mrs. Fleichmann, Mrs. D. O. Todd; special match, Bradford, Gore; American Legion; Johnson, McKelvey, Sheue, Walter Bowen.

Union Oil company; Wilcox, Gordon Talbert, Bushard, Bowen, Standard Gasoline; Taggart, Bonham, Williams, Daloy; chamber of commerce; Patton, Bloeset, Sheehan and Furr; Southern California Edison company; Frost, Sowers, Todd and Hornbeck.

The real issue in this election will be "restrictions or no restrictions" on the oil development in Huntington Beach. Arbitrary and discretionary powers are granted to the city council in each of the four propositions. Under proposition No. 1, the city council may, when satisfied of the financial integrity and responsibility of the applicant . . . grant a permit . . .

What will be considered "satisfactory" is not defined by the ordinance but is left for the city council to decide and such power when administered in the hands of a city council unfriendly to oil drilling could legally amount to a restriction.

"Acceptance of a $5000 bond, required of the applicant to drill a well, is left to the discretion of the city council in proposition No. 2. Furthermore this bond is purported to restore the property to its original shape and its advocates claim that should the state legislature pass a law allowing the state mining bureau to abandon an oil well and make the expense a lien on the property that the bond will protect the property owner against this loss. In the ordinance to be voted on under proposition No. 2 the $5000 bond is expressly limited to guaranteeing the cleaning up of the structure, derrick, pump hole, debris or other material placed upon said premises by the licensee and does not specifically cover the abandonment of the well—placing the cement plug and filling the hole with mud or cement—in which light it does not assure full protection to the property owner.

"A waste water and oil disposal system which shall be 'satisfactory' to the city council is required by the third proposition. No indication is given in the ordinance what the city council will consider as satisfactory and this delegation of discretionary power of the city council under proposition No. 3 could likewise be used to restrict oil drilling by making the required waste water disposal system too burdensome.

"In proposition No. 4 the city council assumes that it is necessary as a fire protection measure or to reduce the danger of falling derricks due to wind storms to require only steel derricks when wells are to be drilled within 125 feet of a street or any other structure. This necessity is not supported by such authorities as fire insurance companies who consider leaking gas and oil as the real fire hazard of oil fields regardless of whether derricks are of wood or steel nor by oil field engineers who recognize that properly guyed wood derricks are safer in wind storms than steel derricks not guyed or properly anchored. The city of Huntington Beach has an ordinance which has been in effect over a year dealing with fire prevention by requiring waste oil to be removed from derrick cellars and around the immediate vicinity of the derrick hole, and also requiring oil derricks to be properly guyed or anchored to concrete sufficient to prevent overturning.

"To require steel derricks in addition to the present regulations would not result in any great increase in protection and would merely inflict a heavy burden on oil operators and place the Huntington Beach field in an unfavorable position for future oil drilling in comparison to other fields where such legislation does not exist. Oil is the one resource and industry of Huntington Beach," the statement concludes, "and its development should not be discouraged by the enactment of measures which are discriminatory, arbitrary and discretionary."

Mesa Brotherhood Arranges Program

COSTA MESA, Sept. 22.—The monthly meeting of the brotherhood of the Community church will be held in the social hall Tuesday with a dinner at 6:30 p. m. in charge of the Ladies' Aid.

A splendid program has been arranged. All men of the community are cordially invited.

PAGEANT GIVEN BY FULLERTON SUNDAY SCHOOL

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Rally day exercises were featured at the First Methodist church of Fullerton yesterday. Rally day sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. B. Dudley Snudden.

"The Church and Her Children," a pageant offered by members of the Sunday school, was the feature of the 9:30 a. m. services. Those participating in the pageant were Miss Clarice O'Flaherty, "The Spirit of the Church"; Wilbur Patton, "Page"; Wainyn Wilbrite, "Guardian Spirit of Children"; Ada Lee Peppard, "Spirit of Missions"; Mrs. Grace Ellis, "Spirit of Parenthood"; and a group of Junior A and B children.

"Could God Do That For Me" was the subject offered by the Rev. Mr. Snudden in the morning preaching service, in keeping with the spirit of Rally day. The pastor urged a more consecrated effort of the members during the coming winter activities of the church, as well as in all other lines of Christian activity.

Exercises in the evening included a "Boy Auction" with various members participating. Dr. Snudden used as a subject last night, "Main Street and the Boy." His sermon which related to the activities of the youth, pointed out the value of the Sunday school and the church in shaping the future life and activities of the boys.

Announcement of plans for a special entertainment in connection with the church brotherhood meeting Friday evening September 26, were made. The program will include magicians, impersonations and music.

FOOTBALL ARRIVES

The arrival of cooler weather in all parts of the country heralds the opening of the football season. Though the month of September this year has contained some of the most outstanding sporting events of the past few years, including the polo series with Great Britain, the yacht races, the start today of Bobby Jones' campaign for his fourth major golf title this year, the most exciting pennant race in baseball for some years, the preponderance of space on the sporting pages of our newspapers has been taken up with predictions and discussions of our leading collegiate game—football.

The lid was lifted from the season with some two score games last Saturday. The splendid showing the Santa Ana Dons gave, evidenced another strong team at the local junior college, with possibly another Southern California championship. Rumors have reached us that the Saints have a team that will bring glory to Santa Ana High School.

Many people hoped and believed that the report of the Carnegie Foundation on inter-collegiate athletics would have a distinct effect for the better on the game, but so far as we have observed the same conditions prevail, and the game will be carried on as before. Already the charges of proselyting athletes, which always appear in some section of the country during the season, have been brought against a certain Western university.

The discussion in California between two leading coaches has tended to heighten the interest in the game, and possibly will aid the ticket sales. We feel that this incident was unfortunate and undignified and did not add to the prestige of either of the two coaches. However, the news today indicates that the Stanford coach is doing his best to straighten the matter out. We hope for the good of the colleges nothing of this kind happens again.

There is no doubt but that there are many evils connected with football, which were brought out in the Carnegie report, but indications are that the desires of the public are being acceded to, which demand the continuance of the "status quo." "On with the show!"

NEEDED—A BETTER WAY

It seems that the Russian government has been selling wheat short on the Chicago Board of Trade. It is believed that this has been a factor in hammering down the price of wheat. It undoubtedly has been such a factor.

The Russian Soviets claim that they have done this with a perfectly legitimate reason, that is, of "hedging" for the purpose of protecting themselves. This is declared not to be the case, for it is asserted the Russians have not wheat enough for themselves, and hence are not exporting it. The truth is, however, that while the Russian people are hungry, they are exporting wheat.

But in any case, by the same token that selling short does reduce the price, and that the general "bear" operators have been stronger than those of the "bulls," what would be the harm in going after all the "bear" operators? Millions of bushels of wheat change hands on the Chicago wheat pit every day. Most of it is not generally intended for delivery. It never is delivered, and is not expected to be delivered.

We know the defenses for this Board of Trade and its gambling program. The Soviet government touched one of those defenses when it said that it was doing it in a perfectly legitimate manner for the purpose of "hedging" on price. Surely there should be some other method of insuring the price of grain for purposes of delivery in the future, without the necessity of carrying on a great gambling mart in a great city. This act by the Soviet government by which it seems to have been working against the interests of the American wheat grower, again calls attention to the Board of Trade and its effect upon prices. There will come a day when we will find a better way.

"Snuff Company Insures Employees for $1,000,000." Headline. Sneezes that off.

WHO MAY BECOME CITIZENS

The reversal by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals of the decisions of the District Court in the cases of Dr. Douglas Clyde MacIntosh, of Yale University, and Miss Mary Averil Bland, a Canadian nurse, applicants for naturalization, opens up once more the whole question as to who is eligible for citizenship. The Solicitor General of the Department of Justice is to carry the case to the Supreme Court for a final ruling. That court has already ruled adversely in the case of Rosika Schwimmer. Whether the grounds upon which the Circuit Court of Appeals based its decision will hold with the Supreme Court, or whether that Court will make discriminations between various kinds of pacifists, is at present a most interesting question.

For ourselves we think it the height of absurdity to admit to full citizenship great masses of ignorant foreigners who cannot speak the language, and who have not the slightest understanding of the Constitution, and to reject men and women of the type of Prof. MacIntosh and Miss Bland. It is a result of the post-war hysteria against which Justice Holmes, himself a veteran of the Civil war, and Justice Brandeis have been arguing in all their decisions on such questions. We certainly hope that in its next decision the Supreme Court will accept the broader and more common sense view of the minority of the court. While no propaganda or influence can reach the highest court of the land, the decision of the Circuit Court may modify subsequent decisions of the Supreme Court.

An able discussion of the whole question may be found in the October Harpers by Dorothy Dunbar Bromley. She makes perfectly clear the gross injustice imposed upon some of the finest spirits of our country by the decisions of the lower courts scattered throughout the country. Should the Supreme Court hold to its position in the Schwimmer case, the only redress is an act of Congress. Such an act has been introduced into Congress by Congressman Griffin; but at present the committee on Immigration of the National House is wholly unsympathetic with any such legislation. Common sense and justice will surely ultimately prevail.

"GREEN PASTURES" NOT FOR ENGLAND

We have commented on that popular play, which is having such a long run in New York, known as "Green Pastures." It may be recalled as the play which portrays the conception of the Bible and religion held by the Negroes of the delta region of New Orleans. It is a reverent play, and those who have seen it have all gone away with a high regard for the play and the picture which it gives of a naturally religious people. The report from New York is that tickets are bought up for the whole winter season.

The English censor has read the play, and has decided that it cannot be produced in England because it speaks slightly of religion. In America plays are censored only after they have been presented on the stage. In England the play is censored from the manuscript. This has its advantages and its disadvantages. It must save managers and promoters a great deal of expense to have the opinion of the censor before they have gone to the expense of its production. But we feel certain that if the English censor had seen Richard Harrison play the Lord on the stage, and actually saw the whole portrayal on the stage, it might have appeared different to him. "Green Pastures" is a play to be seen, not read.

Incidentally, the ban of the English censor indicates how sensitive England and its people are to any caricature of religion. The fact is, the life of the Negro is not known by the people of England as it is to us. If it were, such a portrayal of the Negro's religious life would never have been thought of as slighting to religion. It is a case where the censor has erred, not knowing the ways and manners of a peculiar people who in many regions still have the minds of little children.

Plain Language

Honest respect must be accorded Mr. Arthur Henderson, secretary of foreign affairs for Great Britain, because of his address on disarmament before the 11th assembly of the League of Nations last Thursday. Mr. Henderson told the plain truth, and put it forcefully.

There were two inescapable facts with which any honest speaker on Mr. Henderson's topic had to deal. The first was that the League's covenant formally pledged the member nations to a maximum and general disarmament. The second was that Europe is armed to the teeth and that the outstanding members of the league are the leaders in competitive armament. Mr. Henderson faced those facts.

Many an eminent orator has appeared in this distinguished company pretending to discuss this problem, and has avoided these facts by merely discussing something else. Mr. Henderson went to the truth of the matter.

At a stroke he sheared away the disingenuous argument that security must precede disarmament. The argument is not sound; and even if it were sound, the League could not consider it without in mere common honesty—formally repudiating its own previous pledges to disarmament. What Mr. Henderson told the assembly simply was that the time had come to bring those pledges into the light, measure their practicability by the facts apparent to all, and make the decision either to discard them or to live up to them. That is honest. It is common sense. Further and finally, it is not an easy thing to put frankly before such a body as the League's assembly.

This frank and vigorous and honest challenge is worth reams and volumes of the League's more usual oratory.

English Jumping Balloon Fad May Cross Ocean Next

San Bernardino Sun

Fairy tales come true. One of them is that old whopper about the seven-league boots. It merely exaggerated a little. Anyone who wants such an ambulatory outfit today merely has to get a "jumping balloon" or "hopping blimp" and go traipsing over the landscape with a hop, skip and jump system that gives about 100 feet between contacts with Mother Earth.

The gas in the balloon balances the weight of your body. There's just enough lift not to carry you away in the air. Every time your toes touch, you kick yourself off, and up and away you go again, right over fences, trees and houses. You can make a long trip in no time, if you have the wind with you.

This is a sport that originated in England, and should become popular here. It supplements gliding, and is said to be safer, though the flier has less control. The air may be full of balloon jumpers next summer.

Baron's Son Flunks

Oakland Tribune

In Japan the other day the son of the Foreign Minister, Baron Shidehara, applied for a position in the diplomatic service.

If any man stood a chance to get a job on "pull" it was this young Shidehara. Here is what took place: he was told to take the competitive examination, the papers were read without bias and possibly without knowledge of the identity of the applicants, and the son of the Foreign Minister did not get the job.

The Japanese plan is to put the best trained men in foreign service, considering what they may do is of the utmost importance to the empire. In this country we have not always been so careful and that may be one reason why, when momentous conferences are called, we summon qualified men as delegates from outside the diplomatic service. Within our service there are two complaints: when we develop good men we do not reward them sufficiently, and too often unqualified men are given important posts as political rewards.

A Winner Anyway!

More Truth Than Poetry

GRAVENS OF THE GARDEN

I gaze upon the tender flowers
That decorate my yard
In somewhat thin and ragged bowers
With very scant regard.
They flourish but with fleeting terms
Beneath the summer sun,
And in their daily wars with worms
The worms have always won.

The rose puts up a feeble fight,
She lacks the sturdy heart
To battle with the creeping mite
That tears her leaves apart.
Before the lily lifts her head
And shows her silver crown
With petals handsomely overstepped,
The cutworm mows her down.

But dandelions still bravely bleam
Until the fall of snow,
And neither slugs nor weevils seem
To blight their golden glow.
And on the hills the golden rod,
With radiance freshly mined,
With its aloof superior nod
Defies all insect kind.

Why tend and coddle weaking plants
Which live in idle sloth,
And cower at the hostile glance
Of every churlish moth?
I sometimes think that you and I,
To prove we love brave deeds
Should let our catlike flowers die
And cultivate our weeds.

Parsimony as a Cause of Poverty

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Almost everybody believes that the more a nation saves, the greater is its wealth. Almost everybody takes it for granted that it is impossible to save too much.

Yet, as we pointed out recently, the United States now, at this time, is saving too much. It is piling up more savings in the form of machines, mills, and mines than it can use. And useless capital facilities are not wealth.

How did the people ever get in the grip of this Fallacy of Saving? The answer is simple: They are misled by the most influential economists of the past.

The wealthy savers were glad to be misled, because the doctrine that no nation could save too much exalted even the parsimonious as public benefactors. According to this doctrine, that nation would be wealthiest which had the largest proportion of Hetty Greens!

Adam Smith, the most noted economist of the eighteenth century, still influences our thought on this subject. He held that money saved and invested inevitably brings about the employment of labor; and there cannot be too much employment of labor, or too much capital equipment. He scouted the possibility that so much money might be invested in factories that the products could not be sold.

John Stuart Mill made the same error; and Mill, in the nineteenth century, dominated more college teaching than any other economist. "Every addition to capital," declared Mill, "gives to labor either additional employment or additional remuneration."

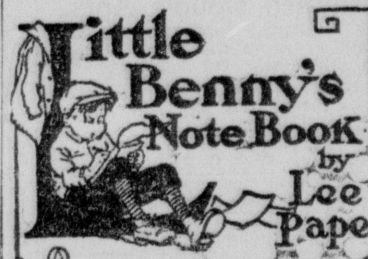

Yet, at this very moment, large additions to capital savings in the United States employ no labor, because no one will borrow the money and hire labor.

"The limit of wealth," says Mill, "is never deficiency of consumers, but of producers and productive power." This doctrine was the very core of his teaching. Yet the outstanding facts in the present business depression are a deficiency of consumers and an excess of productive power.

The distinguished Professor Jevons taught this same Fallacy of Savings in most absolute terms, as did a host of his undistinguished followers.

It is hard to escape from errors which are thus embedded in the teaching of two centuries. But escape is in sight.

KID'S IMPRESSION OF A SCREEN DOOR IS SOMETHING TO LET SLAM!

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

TOWARD ECONOMIC SECURITY

For several weeks I have been discussing in these editorial essays various aspects of the current business and industrial situation in the United States.

I have not been so much concerned to analyze and report the existing situation, save as we need to know it as a background for straight-thinking about our future, as I have been concerned to cut under the surface news and to discover ways and means of finding and following the road back to a stabilized prosperity.

I have thought of a stabilized prosperity as something more than a recovery and regularization of stock market values; I have thought of a stabilized prosperity as an economic condition that would give us not only a sense of security but a social order in which the human spirit might live as well as make a living.

In these discussions I have insisted that the next cycle of America's economic life would not present the simple problem of merely continuing along the program of rapidly increasing production, but that it would present the complex problem of a highly intelligent adjustment of our production to our needs and to our capacity to spend. And I suggested further that our economic order has reached the point where its rushing and sometimes reckless development must be supplemented by fresh consideration of the innumerable social implications of our machine economy.

Because the future promises to present such a complexity of issues, differing widely from the issues of the last two decades, I have spoken insistently of the many importance of leadership—leadership in industry and leadership in politics in sympathetic and active co-operation.

This week I want to go a bit more thoroughly into this problem of the future American leadership, and here are some of the things I want to argue in the days just ahead.

The tradition-bound mind will be worse than useless in the task of assuring to America a stabilized prosperity that shall be widely available to the many as well as to the few.

The next era will call for a new type of mind. The American future must depend upon the free minds of first class men; but American civilization is today making it harder and harder for first class men to remain free-minded. The crowd-minded is showing the creative individual closer and closer to the wall. Nothing, in my judgment, is more important just now than to understand clearly the relative strength of the crowd-mind and the creative individual, for unless we can create and maintain conditions in which the free minds of first class men can grow and function we cannot hope for the kind of leadership in industry and politics that our future demands.

I have from time to time during the five years I have been writing these daily essays, touched upon all of these matters. But at the times I discussed them they lacked the obviously immediate and urgent significance they now have. Many things that seemed theoretical and academic five years ago seem highly practical now.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

NINE-YEAR-OLD FUN

"Isn't it terrible to be the mother of a boy? There is no rest for the spirit, nor for the body. Isn't it terrible?"

"Don is mine. He isn't a BAD boy. He is healthy and mischievous but he is good at heart. Why, that child will tip-toe about the house if I have a headache—but that's not what I started to say. It's terrible, really."

"Last week a nice family moved to our block. There is a boy about Don's age, Junior, they call him. A nice boy. A very nice boy. He is respectful—takes off his hat, wipes his feet, keeps himself clean—you know—a nice boy."

"Well, his mother called on me and I returned her call as neighbors, you know, and the boys got acquainted. I warned Don to play nicely so that this nice boy would be allowed to play with him. There is hardly a child in the village allowed to play with Don. It's terrible. And since this last experience I suppose not even the children of the flats will be allowed near him."

"As I was telling you Don went out to play with Junior. I didn't see where they were going so I didn't know that they went up to Uncle Simmy's room. He was a civil war soldier you know, and all his things are stored in the closet just as he left them. I never touch them. Never think of them."

"All of a sudden I heard the greatest commotion. My new neighbor was out on the lawn struggling with her son. He had on an old army coat and was flourishing a bayonet and yelling like mad. My boy Don was on the other side of the hedge brandishing a knife, one of those awful things with a handle, the men cut sugar cane with them, you know. I don't know what you call them. But they look fiendish."

"Don on one side of the hedge in old blue trousers that dragged on the ground, some sashes and straps about the middle of him, and yelling and saying such awful things. I almost fainted."

"I raced out and grabbed Don and dragged and pushed and shoved him into the house, he yelling and fighting like a mad man. Imagine my feelings. I was washing his face and getting him quieted down when the bell rang and there was Mr. Starbuck, the constable. The nice lady, and mind, I don't blame her one bit, it was terrible, had sent for him because of my boy's having war-like weapons and using them.

"Don hid under the bed. He got a good fright. I explained to Mr. Starbuck about the weapons and he tried not to smile and told me to hide them where children could not get them, and went home. But of course everybody knows all about it and it's simply terrible. What shall I do?"

Just keep still. Any healthy boy will do just that and more. Send him off to grandmother's or Aunt Katie's, whoever will have him for a week or so, and gather strength for the next time. It is terrible but it isn't tragic. Can't you laugh and go on?

HANGING OF HALE

On September 22, 1776, Nathan Hale, American patriot, was hanged as a spy in New York City by the British.

He had volunteered to enter the British camp to find their plans after the American army had suffered defeat at Long Island. Disguised as a traveling schoolmaster seeking employment, Hale, then only 21 years old, visited the enemy camps in Brooklyn and New York and gained much information which might have been valuable to Washington.

In a few days he returned to the point on the Long Island shore where he had landed. He had given orders to have a boat meet him there on the morning of September 21 to take him back. The night before he spent the night at a tavern where he was recognized by a man who revealed his identity to the British.

A boat came the next morning to meet Hale—but it was a British boat. He was searched and notes and plans of the camps were found in his shoes. Taken before General Howe, young Hale was sentenced to be hanged the next morning. His last words were, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country."
